not up to heaven, but down

Dear Nancy,
Two little boys, late on night,
Tried to get to Harvard, on the end of a kite.
The kite string broke, and down to - - - - - (?)

Now don't get excited, and
don't be damaged,
Instead of Harvard
they went to Yale.

Good luck & best wishes in

Hi!
Good-bye
Margo McKenna

Dear Nancy,
you've been a swell locker mate and I've been loads of fun in talking with you.
Bev

To you who are Glenbard:
Your spirit, your achievements, your will to succeed are what make Glenbard great.
Your quest for better understanding and higher knowledge as you weave your pattern of the future keeps Glenbard on the map.
Your cheers for victory, your excited tension during student elections, your hours of toil and talents devoted to studies and activities will remain the foundation of the great tradition which is Glenbard.
For you are Glenbard.

FOREWORD

Although Glenbard is measured by eight semesters,
You will not remember it so much as a waiting
Or from answers in a book,
But more from memories of deeds and friends,
And a going away from.

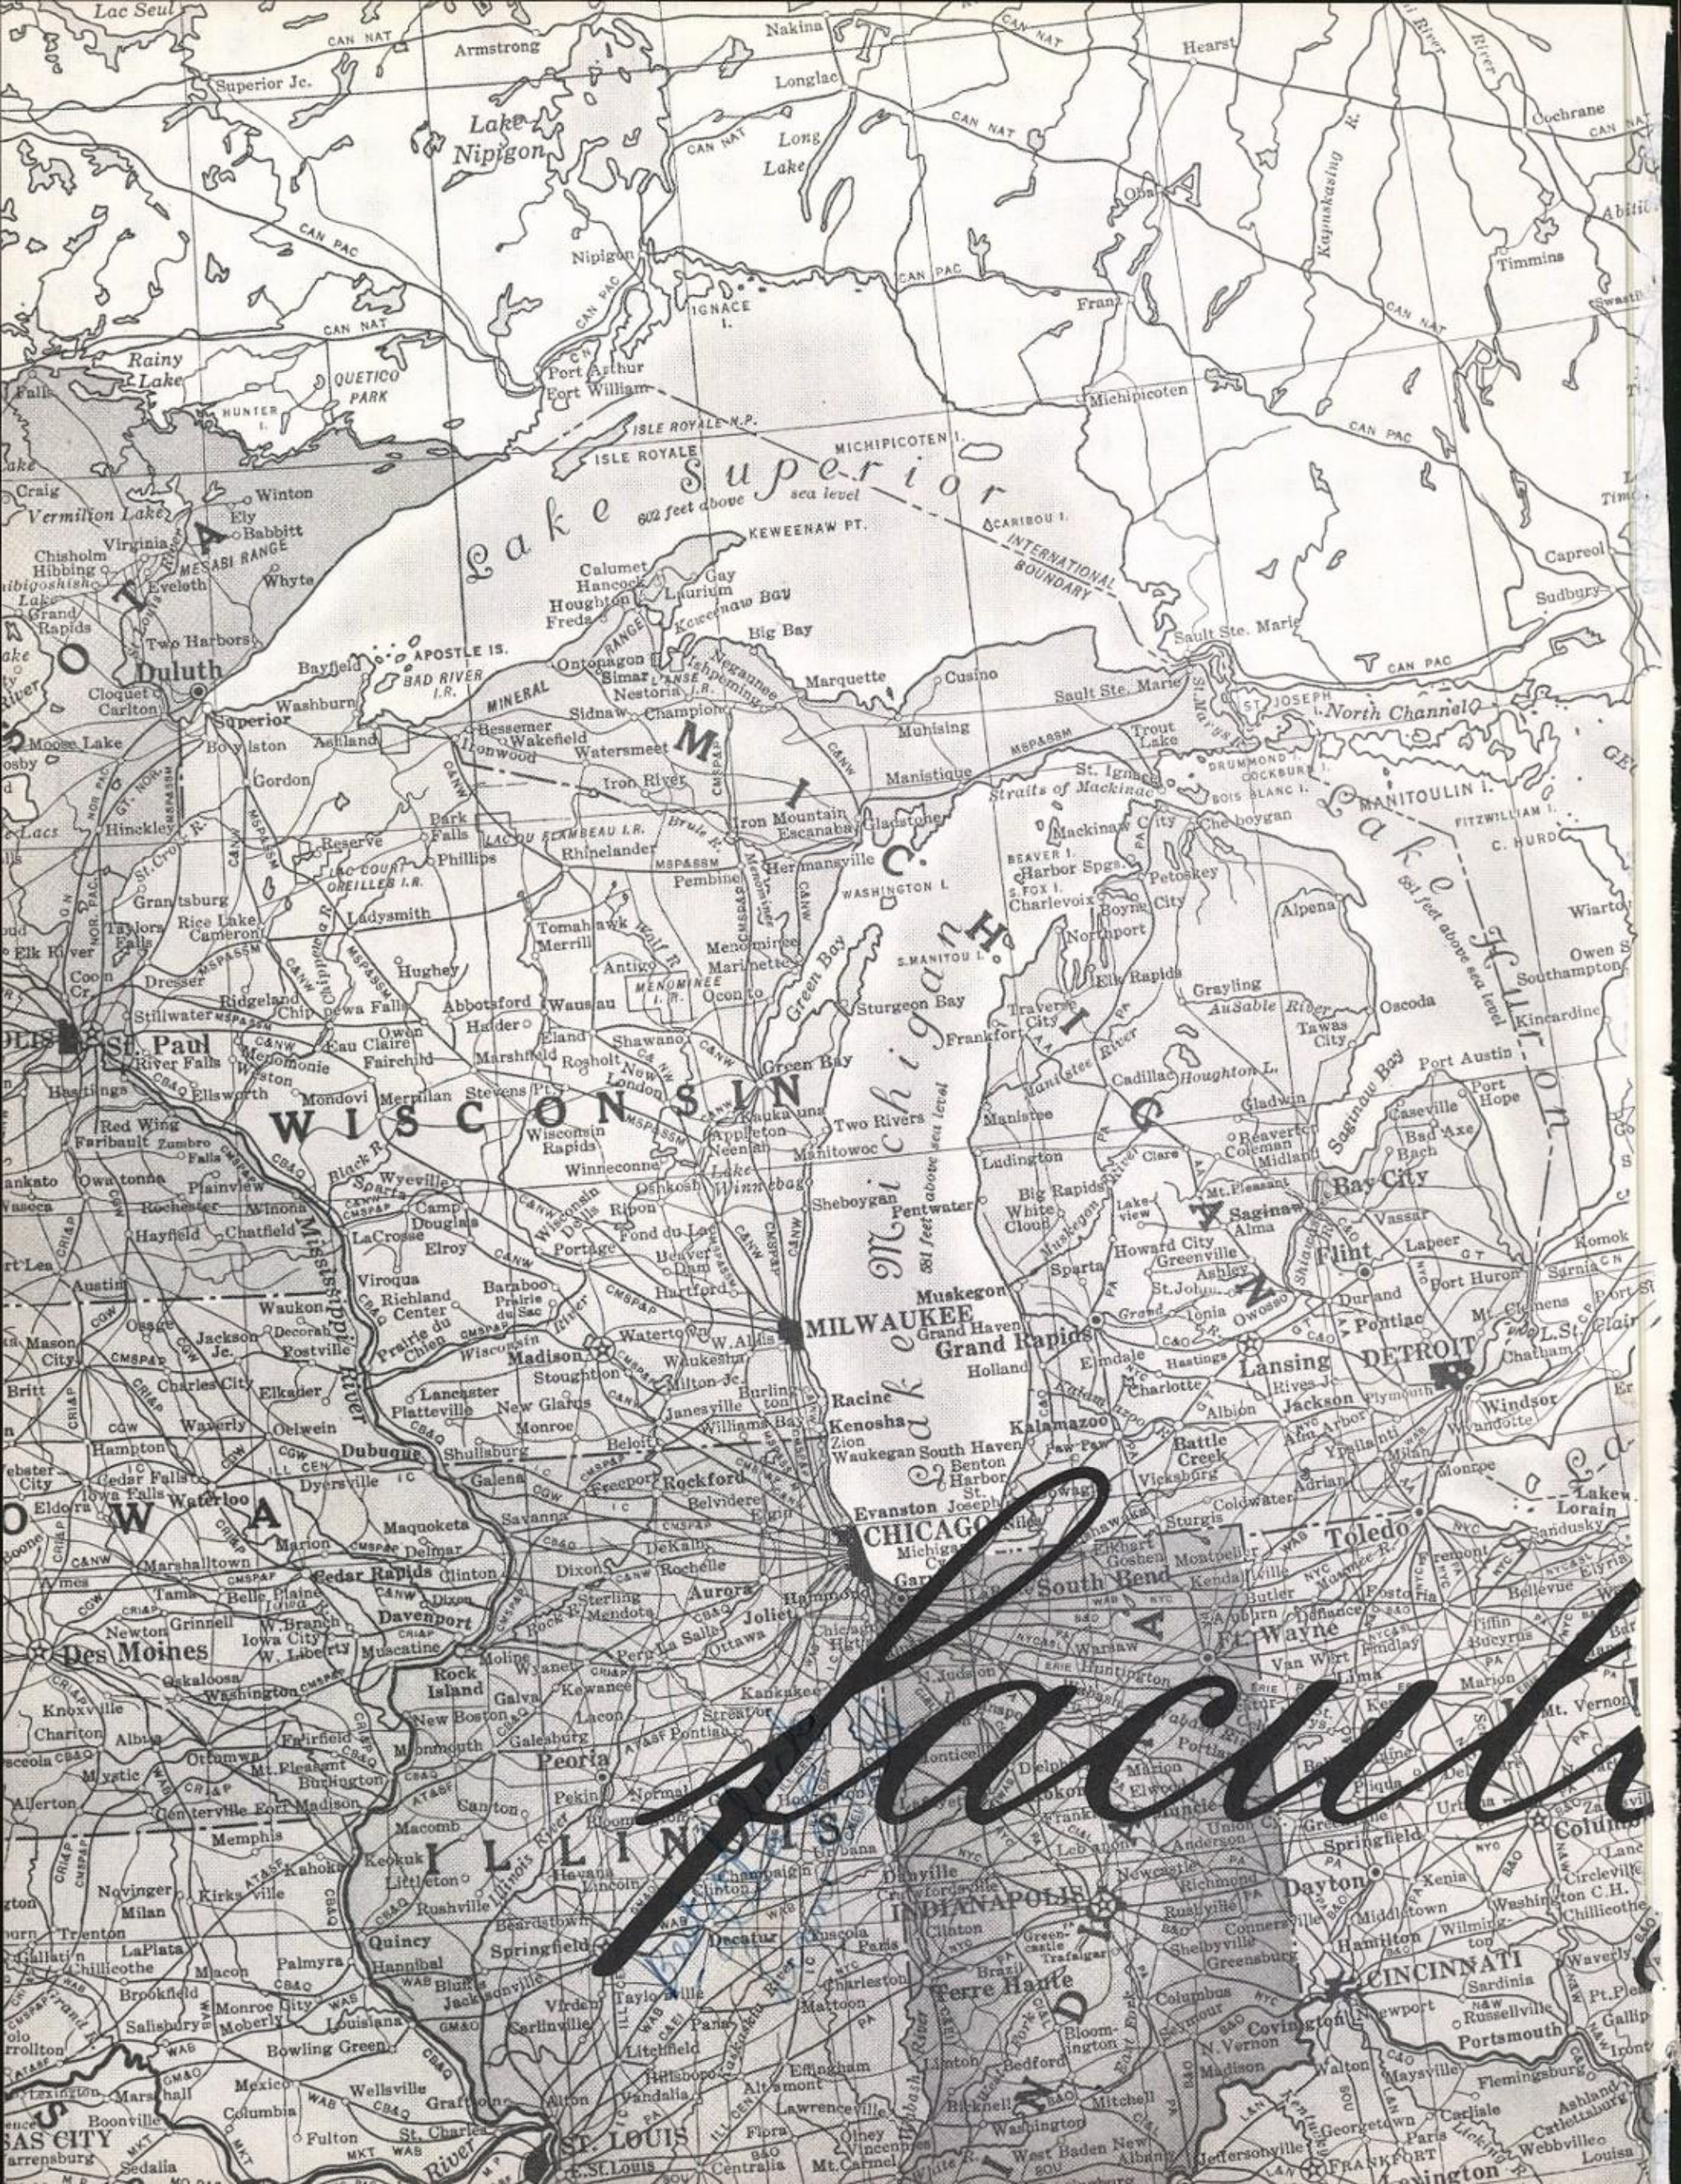

Glenbard is a time for reaching higher
And for searching and finding, is a guidepost,
Remaining a favorite landmark with you.

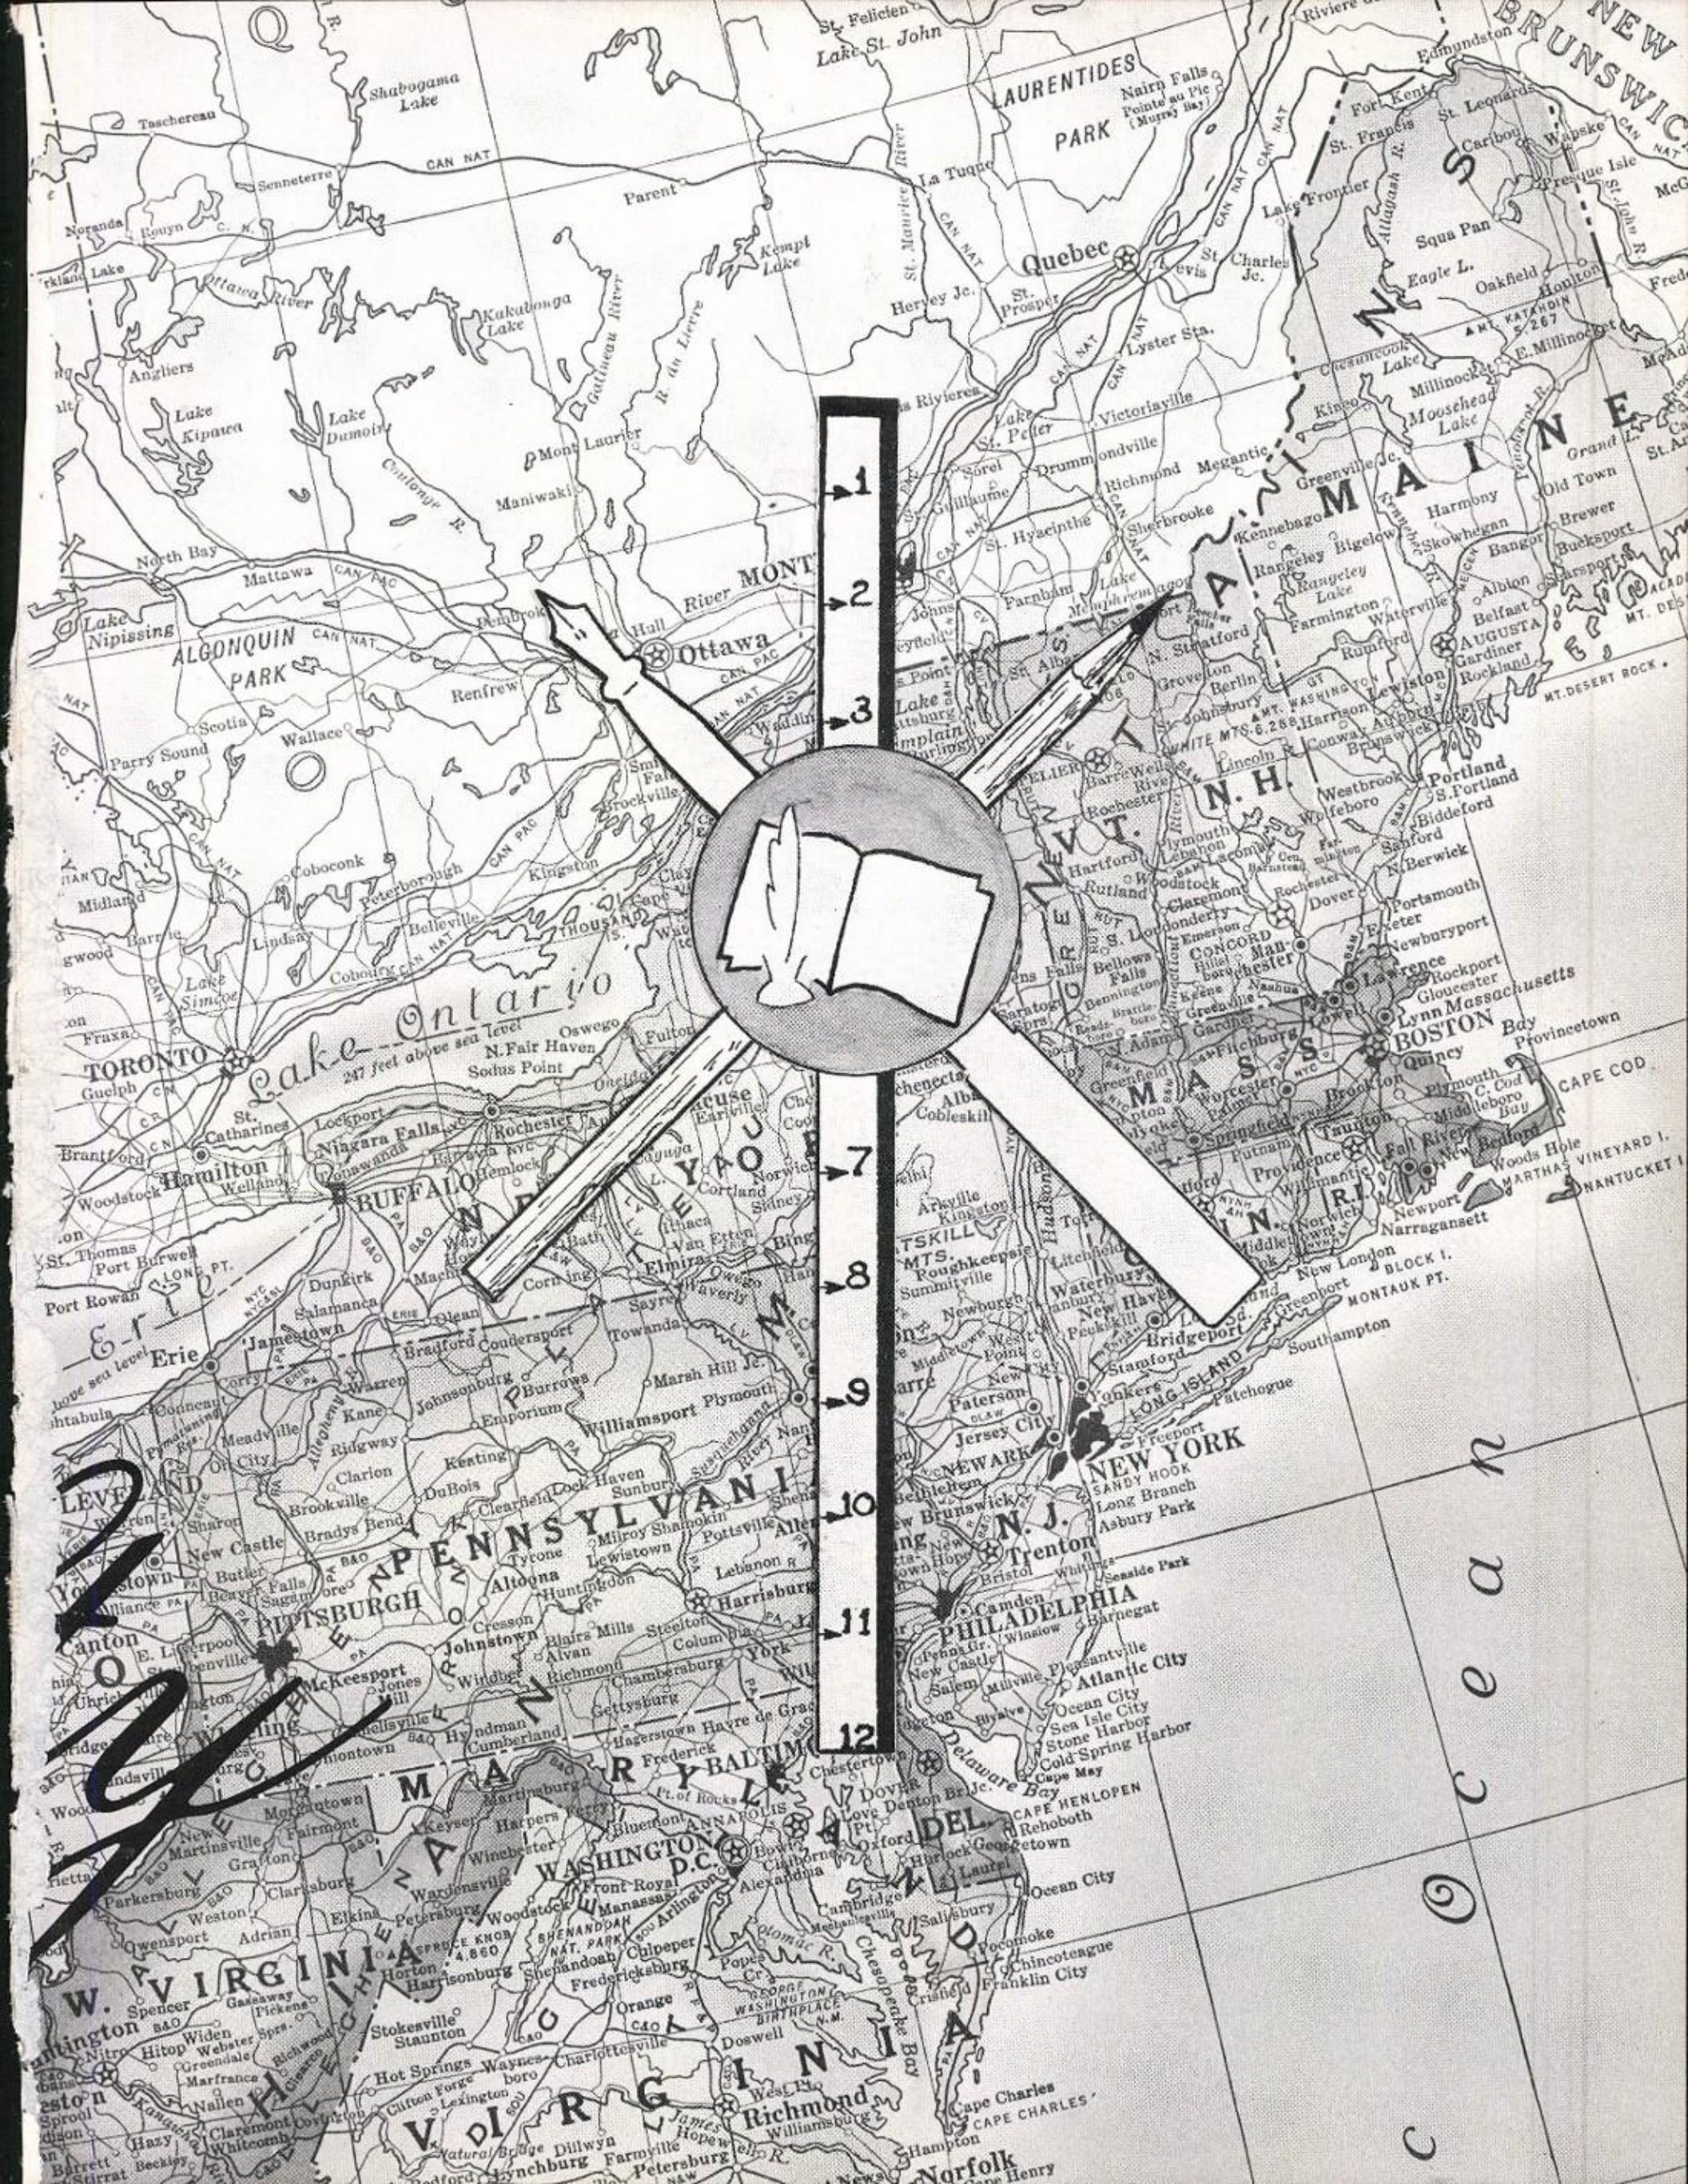

For you, it is the prairie-distance invitation
Touching your impatient feet;
It is measures and machines and music;
The miracle of meaning of ideas and words.

Glenbard, the old which is ever new,
Is your reflection in the emerald quiet of learning,
Rehearsing for today and tomorrow.

The compass is a device which points the way and keeps travelers from getting lost, and likewise the administrative staff at Glenbard might be compared to the compass.

The chief navigator is Mr. Fred L. Biester, who, assisted by Miss Ruth McLean and Mr. David Miller, charts the course and helps us when we lose the trail.

Those who keep the records and assist in the many administrative duties are Miss Freda Lundberg, secretary to Mr. Biester, and her chief aids, Miss Jean Sittler and Miss Donna Laske. It is the job of Mrs. Anna Beattie to keep the log, while Mrs. Raymond Carr handles the finances.

These are the vital parts of the compass at Glenbard.

Diane Hobbet To Direct 1954-'55 Student Council

For the first time in Glenbard's history, a girl has been chosen by the student body to head Student Council. Diane ("Dinie") Hobbet, junior, was elected president Wednesday in the balloting for next year's officers.

Other winning candidates are junior Dick Toye, vice-president; sophomore Suz Chalberg, secretary; and junior Steve Thompson, treasurer.

The newly-elected leaders will be sworn in to office in convocation early in May.

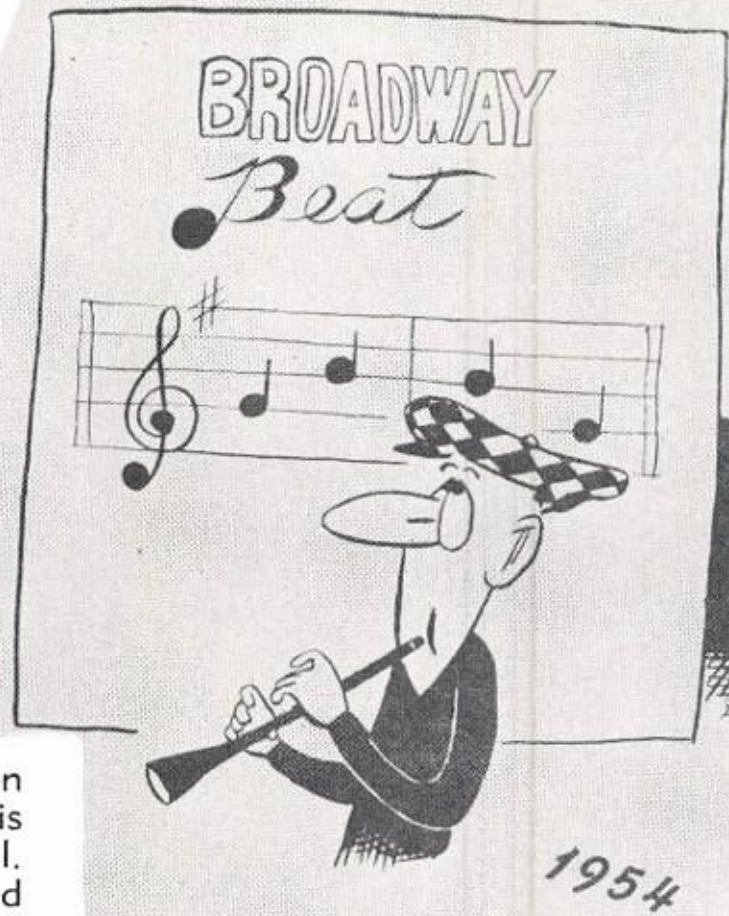

JOIN
POSSE

To act as a co-ordinator between the faculty and the student body is the purpose of your Student Council.

In order to help freshmen and new students feel more at home, we published a handbook, "Castle Keys," in the fall. Other projects we sponsor for the students are the Homecoming festivities, the Conference Dance, and the variety show. We also sold Glenbard bookcovers and pennants, and, with the Art Department's help, decorated the halls for the Christmas Season.

The officers for 1954,55 were Diane Hobbet, president; Dick Toye, vice-president; Suz Chalberg, secretary; and Steve Thompson, treasurer. Assisting Council as advisors are Miss Eleanore Dowling and Miss Charlotte Schwartz.

The guide book lists G.A.A. as the best way for girls to travel by ship—friendship, sportsmanship, and championship.

For those of us who take this advice, there are rewarding experiences in basketball, volleyball, and many other sports as well as the experiences of stiff muscles and bruised knees.

During the year we entered a prize-winning Homecoming float, "The Wheel of Fortune"; sponsored an informal dance, "The Shanghai Shuffle"; and put on the Dad and Daughter Banquet.

Captained by Mudge Knowles, our first team consisted of Judy Archibald, vice-president; Karen Johnson, secretary-treasurer; Mickey Claypool, art chairman; Judie Donaldson, ways and means chairman; Marsha Walther, membership chairman; Judie Pettigrew, program chairman; Marge Brain, junior sports head; Kathryn Ege, Mary Huber, Linda La-Fleur, and Marilyn Schaus, sports heads. The advisors were Mrs. Virginia Sliker and Mrs. Eleanor Arlen.

Officers: J. Marsh, D. Reed, J. Ford, K. Benson, B. Lanza.

hi-y

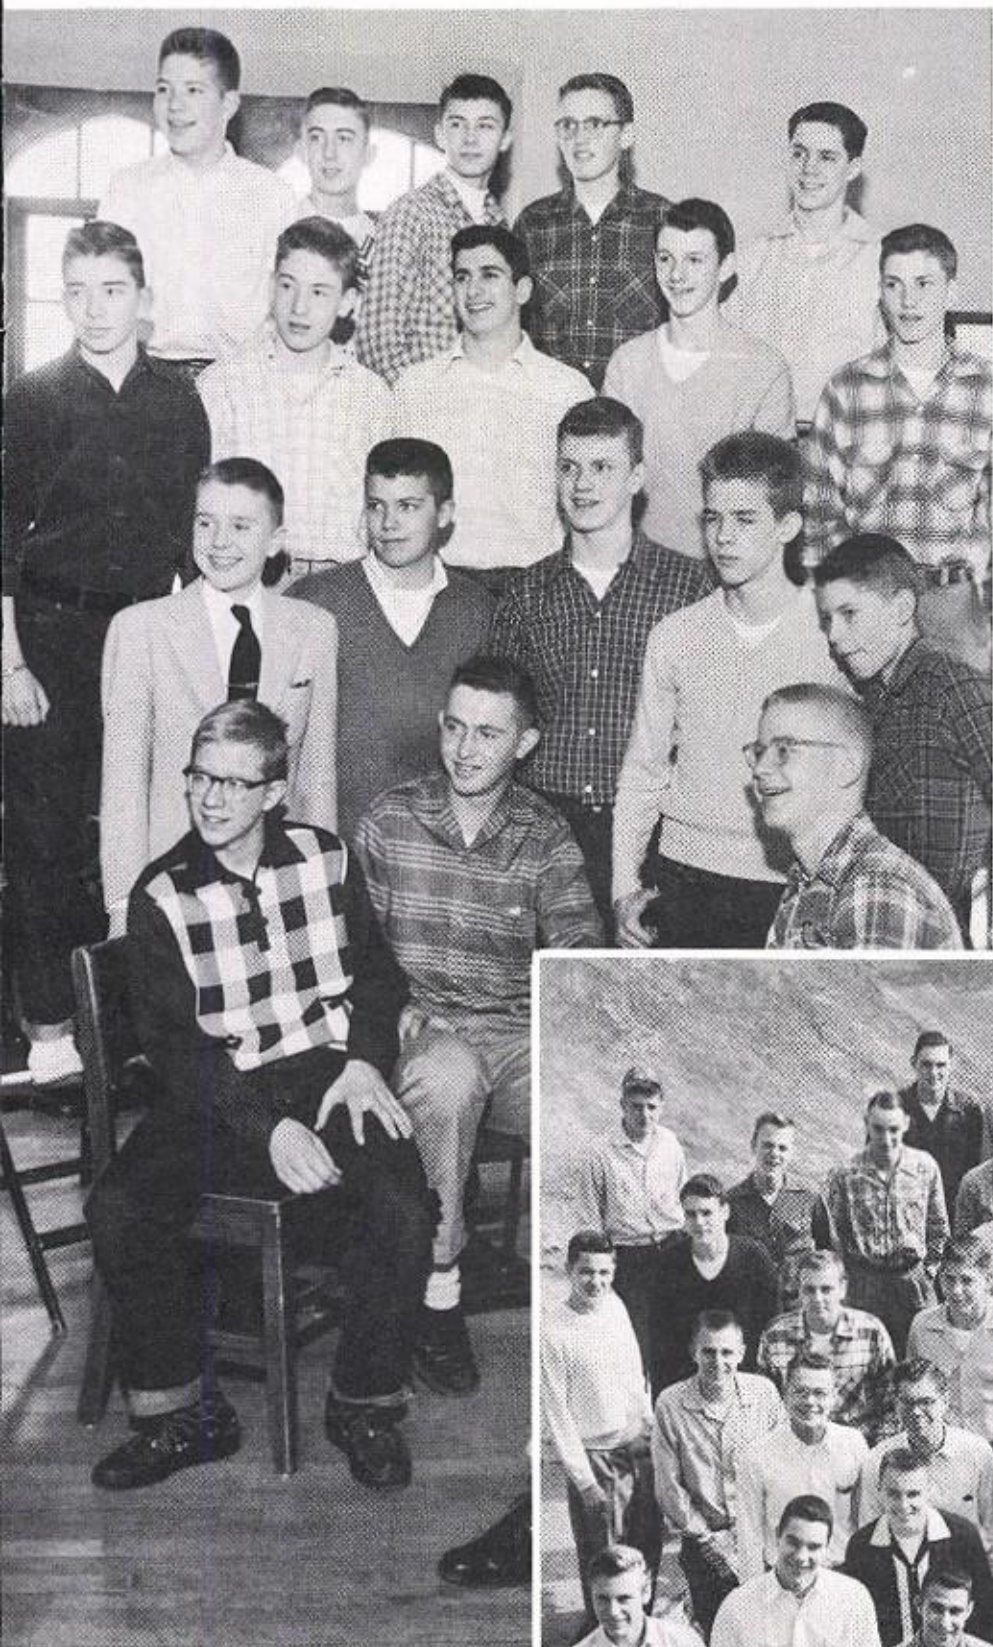

We Hi-Y members belong to one of the three clubs, Freshman, Sophomore, or Senior Hi-Y, according to our class, but our common purpose is "to create, maintain, and extend high standards of Christian, and extend high standards of Christian living throughout the home, school, and community."

Following our purpose, we do our best to serve Glenbard by such projects as the Candlelight Service, the Homecoming bonfire, and the Heart Hop. We also spread good will further by selling Christmas cards for the benefit of world service and acting as legislators in Springfield on Youth-in-Government Day.

Freshman Hi-Y is sponsored by Mr. Warren Wiltsie; Sophomore Hi-Y, by Mr. William Dutch; and Senior Hi-Y, for both seniors and juniors, by Mr. Orth Baer.

y-teens

Grateful grins and honest appreciation left us with a feeling that made us realize that happiness is truly gotten through giving. Maybe that's the way to explain the satisfaction of being a Y-Teen member.

We worked hard on the Big and Little Sister Tea, the Candlelight Service, the Heart Hop, and the Mother-Daughter Banquet. As service projects, we raked leaves for Herrick House, adopted a Korean orphan, made scrapbooks for hospitalized children, and sat with visitors' children at Hines Hospital.

Our presiding philanthropist this year was Gerry Rader, who was assisted by Carol Fricke, vice-president; Carole Costello, secretary; Judy Johnson, treasurer; Susie Paine, program chairman; Judy Bracewell, ways and means; Joanne Eiberg, service chairman; Barbara Roy, social chairman; Kathy Cunningham, membership chairman; and Linn Leithner, art chairman. Miss Evelyn Kittlesby directed us as club advisor.

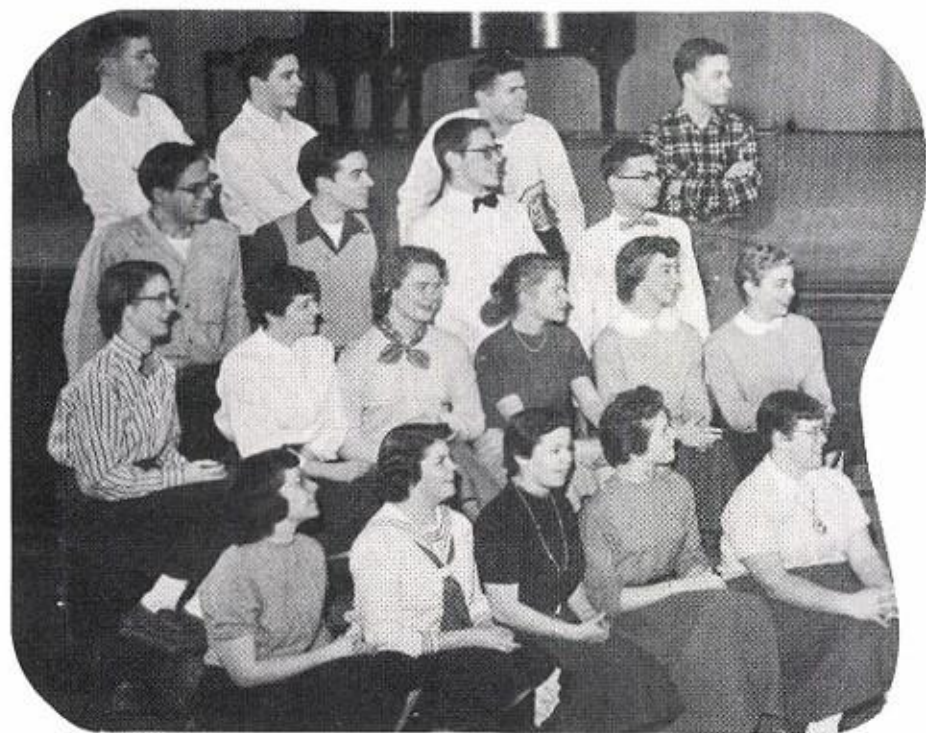

pep club

"... Lead us forever, smiling to victory!"

Loyally the members of Pep Club sang these words at the Glenbard games. We were determined to cheer Glenbard's athletes to victory, and we felt pretty proud of them when they carried off the DeKalb Trophy.

In an effort to promote pep and spirit, we provided busses to all the conference games and gave awards to girls who attended the games regularly. As a money-making project, we were co-sponsors of the Donkey Basketball Game in March.

Our leading pepster was Jani Greene, assisted by Polly Peaslee, vice-president; Joyce Hadhazy, secretary-treasurer; Sheila Campbell, program chairman; Debbie Gentry, art chairman; Ann Downing, senior class head; Dee Greene, junior class head; Lyla Johnson, sophomore class head; and Mary Ann Dilcher, freshman class head. Miss Ruch McMahon was our faculty advisor.

thespians

All the world's a stage, but the National Thespian Society recognizes only those who perform in an outstanding capacity on that stage, whether it be as an actor or as part of a production crew.

Since Thespians is an honorary club, our members must qualify by playing one major or two minor roles in a school presentation, or by doing outstanding work on a production committee.

In order to improve our acting and staging ability, we took a field trip to Chicago to see Shakespeare's "As You Like It" in February and sent delegates to the National Conference at Indiana University last summer. We usually held joint meetings with either Masque and Gavel or Kits and Skits.

Taking the leads this year were Dwight Reed, president; Dick Toye, vice-president; Jim Scott, secretary-treasurer; and Miss Rachel Whitfield, advisor.

"g" club

"Keep Glenbard's ball rolling"

To fulfill this goal, we members of the G-Club, Glenbard's lettermen's club, accomplished many things in the interest of sports. In the basketball season, we initiated a presentation of colors and held ropes to keep the spectators off the floor during intermissions. Although these activities didn't test our muscular strength, the faculty-senior lettermen basketball game did. To raise funds, we sold newspapers containing articles on Glenbard sports activities and 1955 World Almanacs.

Heading this year's roster of G-Men were Mike La Porte, president; Bob Sylvester, vice-president; Bruce Manger, secretary; Steve Thompson, treasurer; and Bill Hall, sergeant-at-arms.

masque and gavel

quill and scroll

Once a student's recommended
For outstanding "gab 'n' babble,"
It's not long before we ask him
To belong to Masque and Gavel.

Chosen by the teachers for outstanding participation in class, we become members of this national honorary society in our junior or senior year.

We meet once a month, usually in conjunction with Thespians. One of our outstanding meetings was a talk given by Helen Hansen about the American Embassy in Sweden. We also had a guest panel from Current Events Discussion Club.

"Speaker of the House" was John Marsh, president; who was assisted by Pam Dexter, vice-president; and Mudgie Knowles, secretary-treasurer. Our advisor is Mrs. Gladys Kronsagen.

Because we are part of an international society that has no officers and holds no meetings, our club is very different from others at Glenbard.

We are awarded membership in Quill and Scroll for outstanding cooperation and effort extended on our school publications. Earning membership through the Glen Bard, eight from the editorial staff met requirements with 75 inches and 50 hours of work; the eight mechanical staff members worked 35 hours each.

The five Pinnacle staff members were chosen for their outstanding work in both their junior and senior years.

Random Remarks

"One-a-Day Plan"

Throughout the school year, Glenbardians frequently take two or three tests a day as teachers work them overtime to complete the required amount of work.

If the faculty drew up a testing system, such as English Department, Monday; Language and Mathematics Departments, Tuesday; Commercial and Industrial Arts Departments, Wednesday; Social Science Department, Thursday; and Science and Art Departments, Friday, the process of education would be streamlined.

Co-ordinating the different departments' tests would alleviate the strain of "cramming" for more than one test a night. Since psychologists claim a relaxed mind is more receptive than a strained one, Hilltoppers would learn more from their studying. Too, Bards would have more time to study for tests, because this system would give them more advance notice.

Although instructors might object to this system, certain castle educators have contentedly confined themselves to a fixed testing day for many years. Joining these pioneers would be a worthwhile experience for the remaining teachers.

After all, pupils attend school to gain wisdom, not to incur nervous breakdowns.

Victorious Losers

Disconsolately the fans left the grandstand; disconsolately the squad trudged off the gridiron. The Bards hadn't won the football game; they had lost, 33-0, to York.

But the Green and White had won a greater victory. This victory had shone in the grimace of an exhausted regular, who had been helped off the turf after giving his "all" for a seemingly lost cause. This victory had rung in the cheering of the Hilltoppers, who had lost no pep, although York's lead had mounted.

kits and skits

"Hurrah! Hurray! We're glad to say
You were terrif' on try-out day;
And so from Glenbard's senior wits,
A welcome, friend, to Kits and Skits."

With this poem, we welcomed Glenbard's prospective junior and senior tragedians and comedians to Kits and Skits, after they had tried out before Miss Whitfield and the officers.

In May, we presented our annual student convo play. But the biggest event of the year was the Masque and Palette Party held jointly in the spring with Art Club.

In the leading roles this year were Pete Eissler, president; and Bill Holmes, vice-president. Co-starring were Joanie Yud, secretary-treasurer; Bill Beilharz, sergeant-at-arms; and Marilyn McWard and Pam Dexter, program chairmen. Miss Rachel Whitfield served as faculty director.

current events discussion club

"What is this world coming to?"

Striving to answer this age-old question, our club members met once a month to discuss current events. At these meetings we divided into groups, each with a different point of view, to present panels or hold informal debates.

For variety we sent a guest panel to one of Masque and Gavel's meetings, and we held a joint meeting with History Club to discuss Red China.

Head moderator in this, our club's second year, was Bob Goodfellow, assisted by Jim Marsh, vice-president; and Tom Hawley, secretary-treasurer; with Mrs. Mary Peccarelli as advisor.

"Don't fence me in. . . ."

By entering this float in the Homecoming parade, we proved that though ours is supposed to be a dead language, we haven't died yet.

Once a month during class our members make a pilgrimage—to the activity room—for Roman games, movies, songs, and, of course, refreshments.

Taking the part of emperor this year was Jim Crise, whose right-hand men were Emily Iglehart, vice-president; Rich Archbold, secretary; and Sam Bodman, treasurer. Miss Delpha Patterson was advisor.

latin club

With a touch of old Spanish lace and toreador pants, we climaxed the year by giving "una fiesta grande."

The purpose of P.A.L. is to promote better relations between the people of the Western Hemisphere. Miss Snow showed a movie of her trip to Spain. Several lectures were given by Spanish enthusiasts. P. A. L. was headed by the following señoritas: Carol Gleason, president; Mary Leonard, vice-president; Joan Falotica, secretary; Cecelia Pfaff, treasurer; and Abbie Brown, program chairman. Miss Shuck was faculty sponsor.

pan-american league

Can-can girls, Valentines from France, and French pastries were some of the highlights of our monthly meeting.

In order to have a wider contact with France and her people, we saw movies and heard speakers among whom was Miss Elizabeth Snow, who showed slides of France and Spain.

For initiation, new members dressed up in French garb and were judged for the best costumes.

Wearing the president's beret this year was Gail Brown whose council consisted of Phyllis Jess, vice-president; Marsha Walther, secretary-treasurer; Phyllis Rauschenbach, program chairman; with Miss Snow as advisor.

french club

790 club

s.p.s.c.

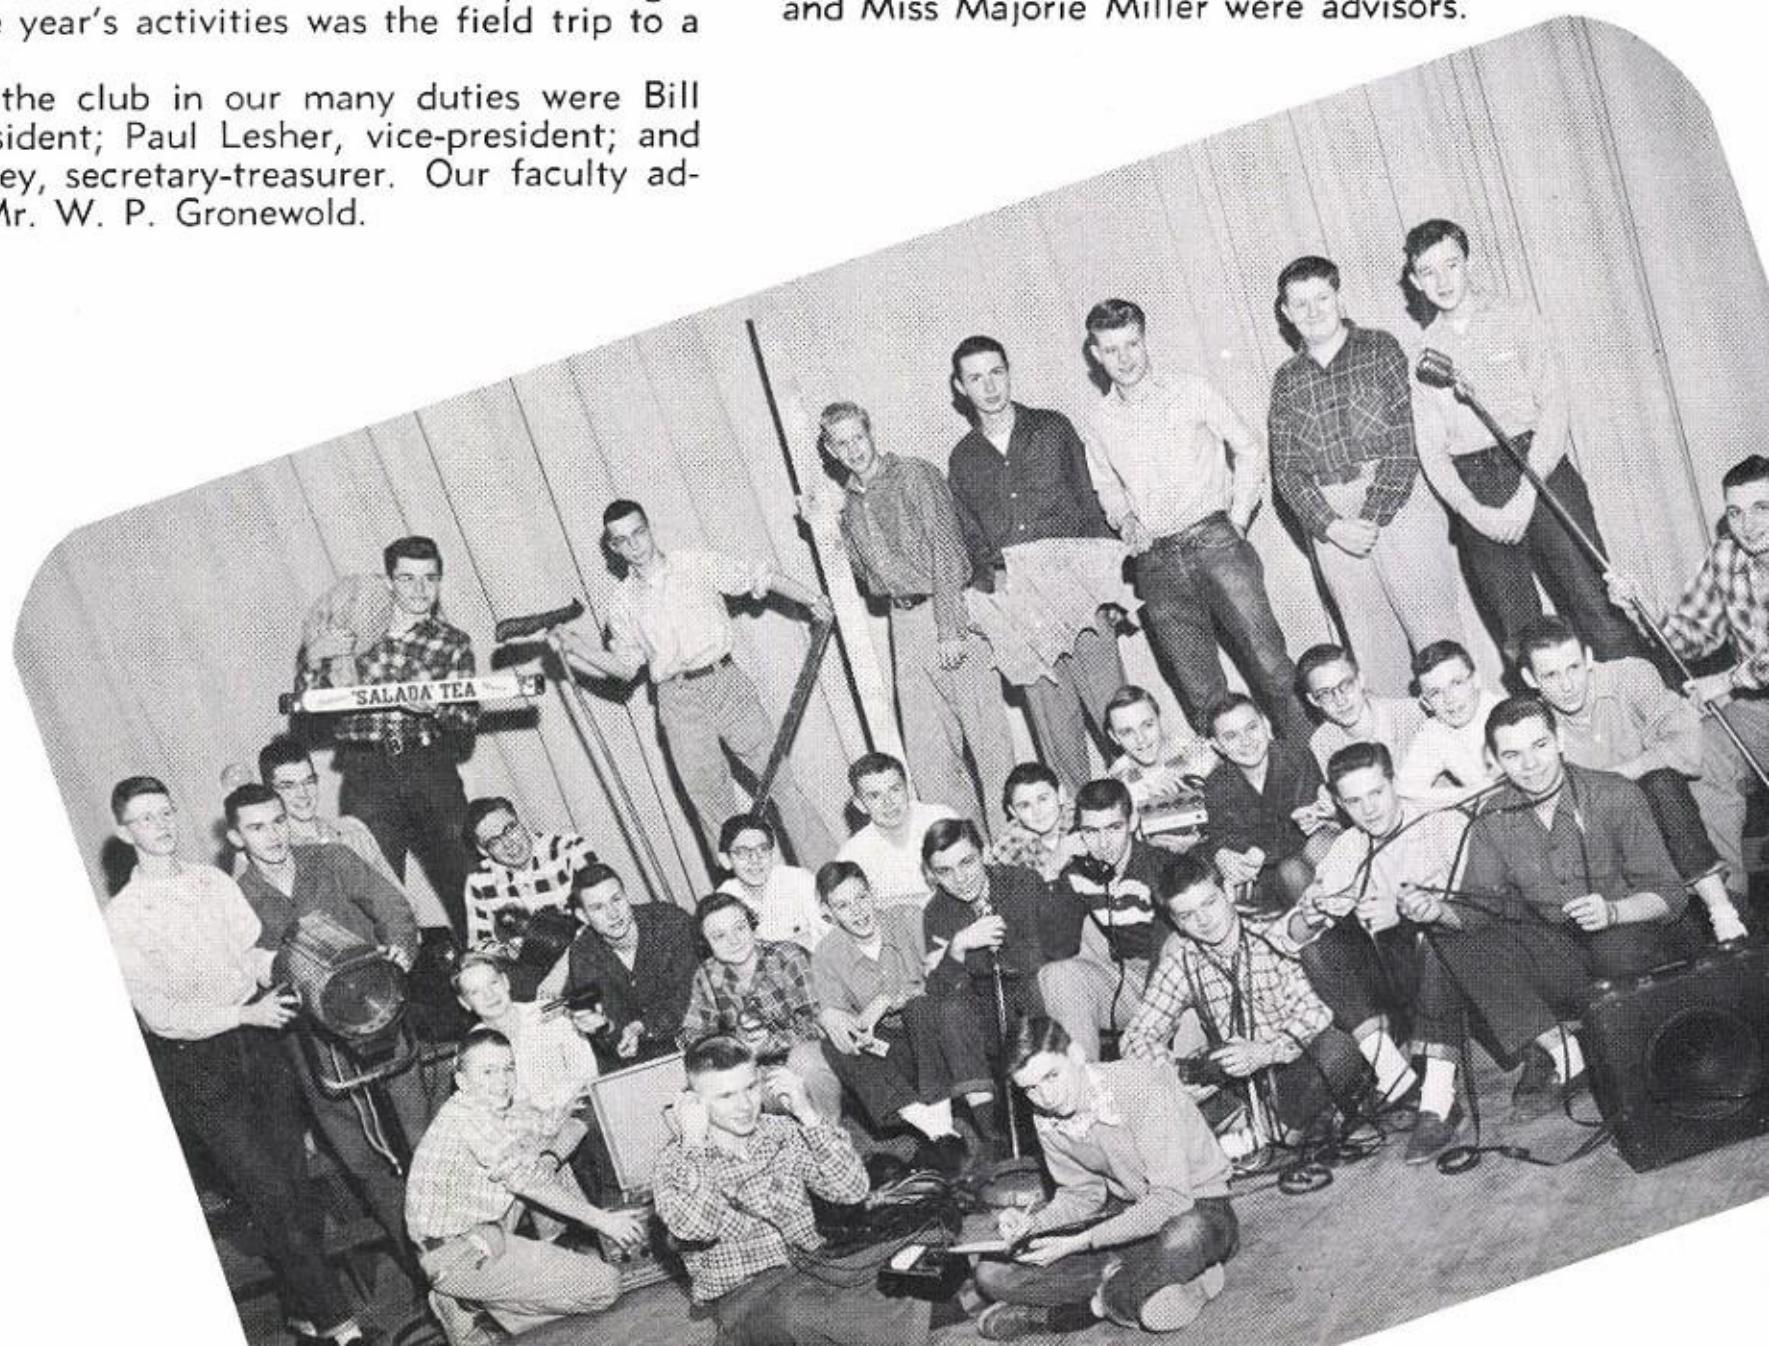

Keeping up a fast pace again this year, our Sound, Projection, and Stage Crew provided the desired stage effects for school plays and convos. We also ran the projectors for teachers who wished to show movies to their classes. Old electronic equipment was auctioned off in January. A highlight of the year's activities was the field trip to a stage show.

Leading the club in our many duties were Bill Guyot, president; Paul Leshner, vice-president; and Roger Missey, secretary-treasurer. Our faculty advisor was Mr. W. P. Gronewold.

Besides aiding Glenbard's bookworms, we had the duties of stamping and mending books, straightening shelves, and keeping the library in good working order.

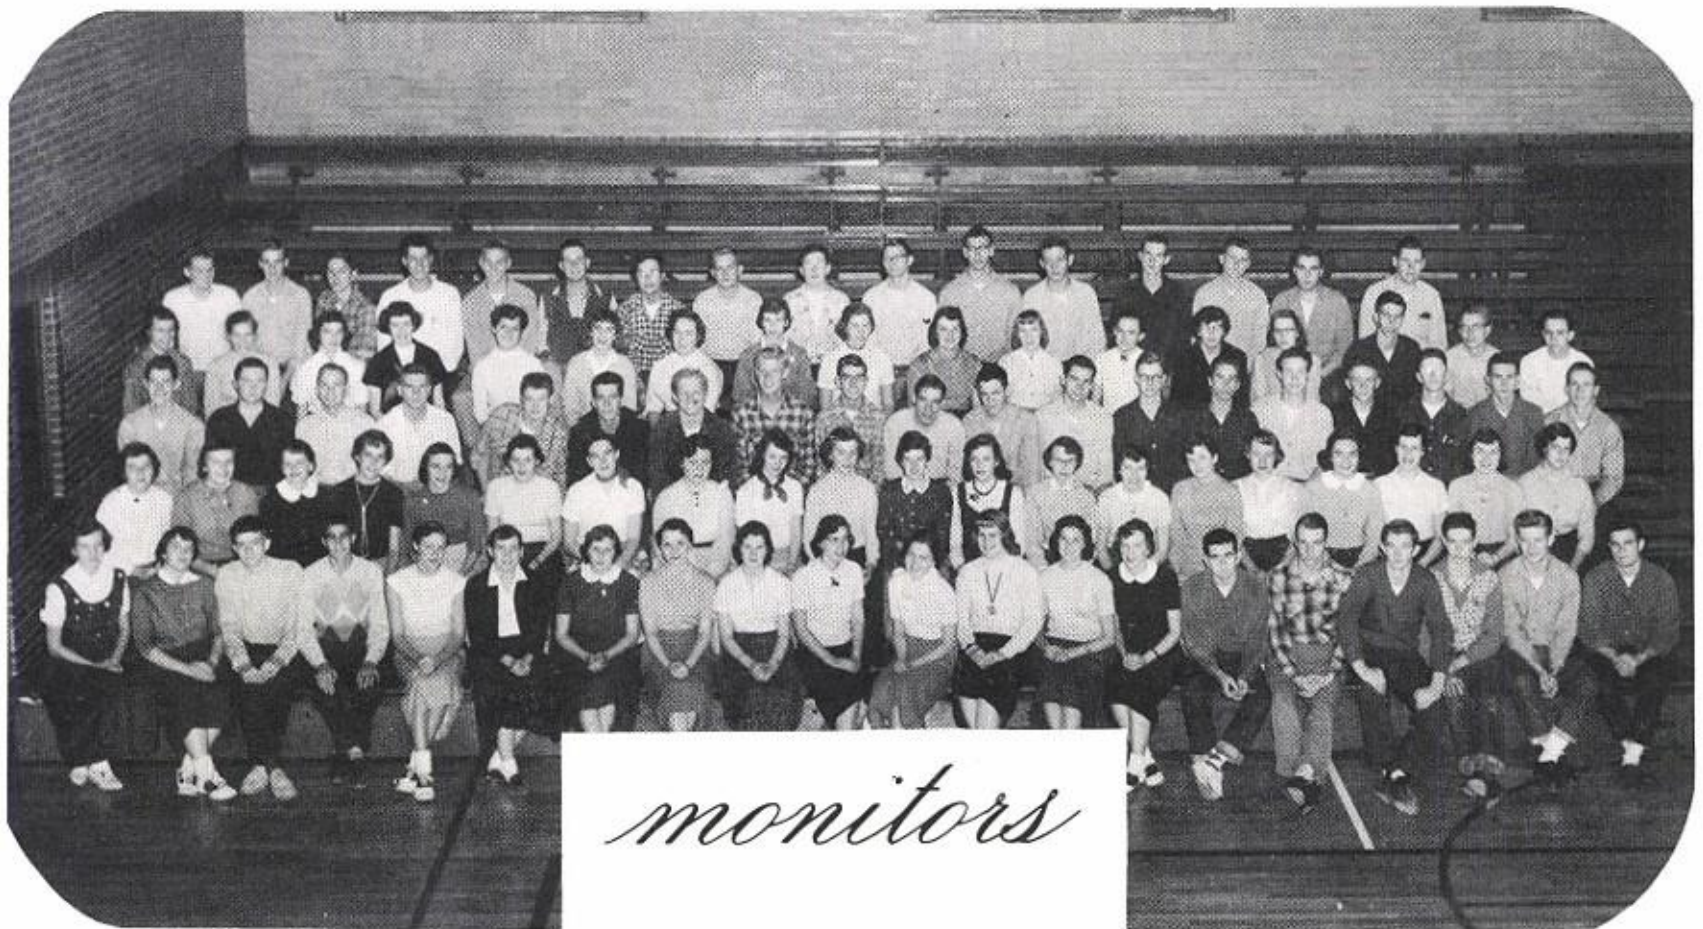

Among other activities we decorated the library for Christmas, sent a CARE package to a foreign country, and held a Get-Acquainted Party for the Glen Ellyn and Lombard Junior Highs to introduce new freshmen and encourage them to join the club.

"Head stampers" were Maria Berg, president, and Nancy Sebolt, secretary. Miss Blanche Aust and Miss Majorie Miller were advisors.

student office help

Extending a helping hand to meet a continuous demand is the purpose of our club.

In order to do this, we have had the co-operation of the entire student body. With the help of various school clubs and departments we filled Christmas stockings and made stuffed animals for underprivileged children, made ashtrays, cookies, and clipboards for veterans, packed gift boxes for impoverished peoples, and collected money for many worthwhile charity drives. Leading us in our crusades were Bob Edwards, president; Dave Andrews, secretary-treasurer; and council members Gloria Nowack, Carle Whitehead, Ruth Patch, Sue Irving, and Kay Brown. Mrs. Gladys Davis was our advisor.

"Reel in your lines and holster your shootin' irons, so we can get down to business!"

With directions similar to these, we opened our regular monthly meetings of Junior Ikes.

Our club's purpose has been to help us understand and increase the wild life and natural resources of our country.

A panel discussion composed of members who had attended the Illinois Conservation Training School, and a fishing field trip helped us toward this goal.

In order to finance our membership in the Fish Tagger's Association, we originated the idea of selling cokes at the Basketball games. Leading our conservation program this year were Bill Shannon, president; Brad Horton, vice-president; Pete Peaslee, secretary-treasurer; and Mr. L. H. Burnett, faculty advisor.

chess club

"Be quiet or be sorry!" is the choice given us during matches by Chess Club's unofficial bouncer, Jim Duvall.

Whether the match is between members of the Glenbard chapter or against other schools, silence is essential to the "king of games."

The dues collected from our members are used to replenish our chess supplies, and to furnish the players with refreshments.

Our "king" officer, Harvey Mickelsen, was assisted by Jim Stewart, vice-president, and Fred Mueller, secretary-treasurer. Mr. R. L. Kietzman was faculty advisor

When Orville and Wilbur Wright made their first flying machine, they unknowingly laid the foundation for the Glenbard Aeronauts Club formed in 1942.

With the main purpose of the club directed at enjoying an educational hobby, we design, construct and test fly model planes.

Piloting our club this year were, Rolland Schable, president; George Rabun, vice-president; and Dennis Lantz, secretary-treasurer. Mr. R. N. Magor was faculty advisor.

aeronauts

art club

Contrary to the belief that we have nothing to do but sit around and blow at our mobiles, we've been pretty busy this year.

At Christmas time we painted clip boards for hospitalized veterans and had a demonstration on table decoration. After Christmas, Mrs. Christiansen, an interior decorator, demonstrated various color schemes for teen-age bedrooms. In February we combined our efforts with Kits and Skits to give the Masque and Palette Party, "Showboat."

Leading us in our "painter's progress," were Helen Ruopp, president; Marion Leshner, vice-president; Marlene Gorz, secretary; Gloria Nowack, treasurer; Sue Copeland and Ruth Rische, program chairmen; and Paul Sabine, publicity chairman. Miss Ruth Ely was faculty advisor.

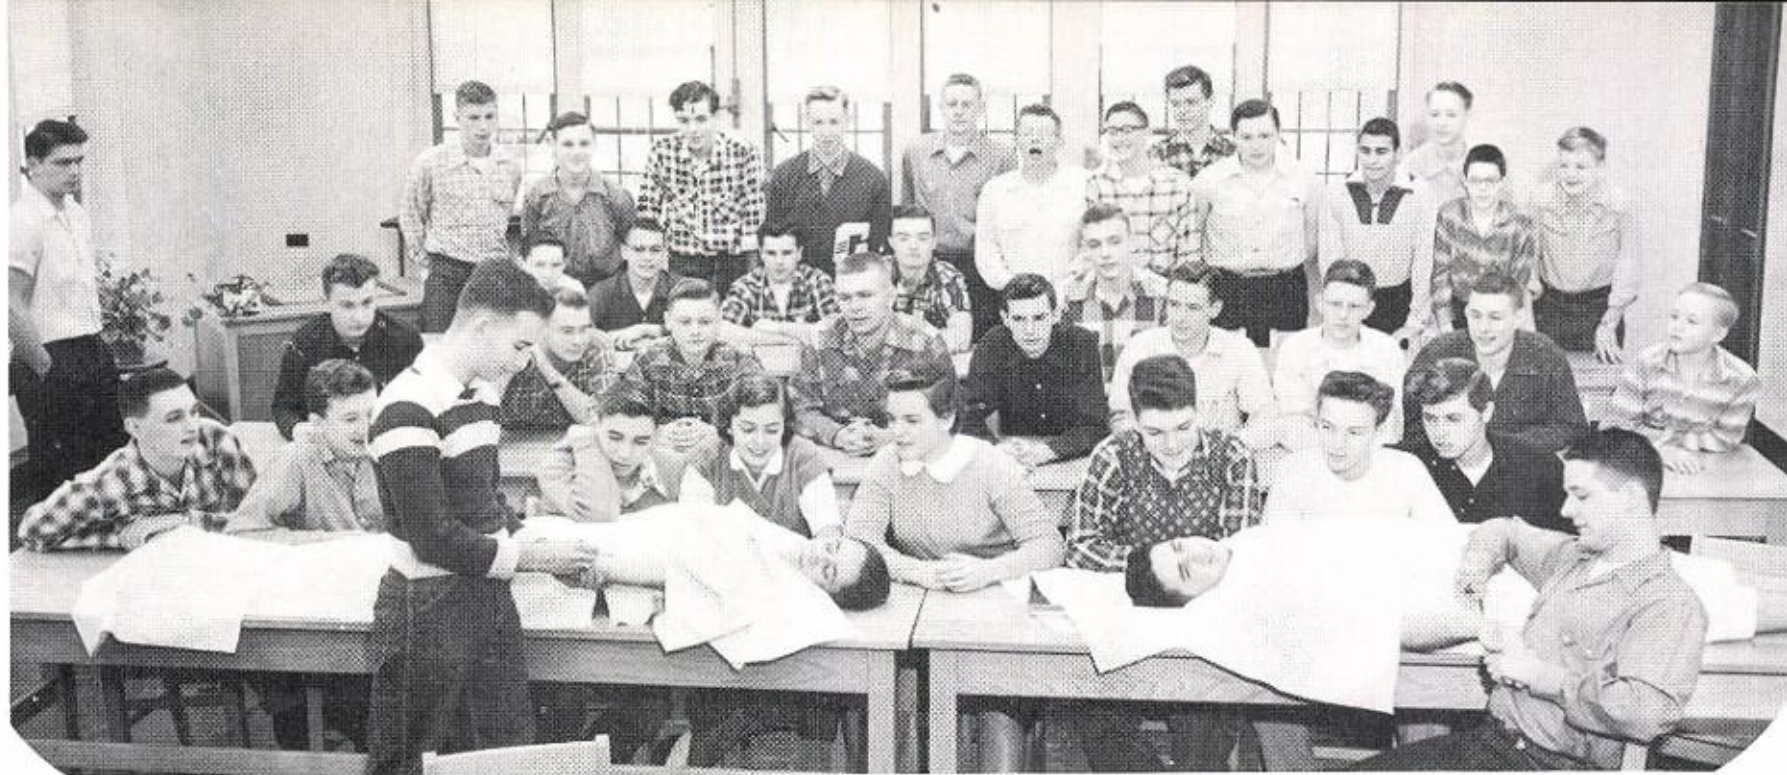

camera club

Lights! Camera! Action!

The action this year included contests for the best photographs each month, trips to Chicago to view entries of some of the national contests, talks by well-known photographers, and visits to the photo laboratories of the Chicago newspapers.

In the floodlights were Herb Menard, president; Walter West, vice-president; Peter Hoy, secretary-treasurer; John Slapak, sergeant-at-arms; and Miss Mary Brinkmann, faculty advisor.

During 1955 we had many projects boiling in our beaker of activities. Since our club is designed to appeal to all the Science students in Glenbard, whether they are taking general science, biology, physics, or chemistry, we had programs in atomic medicine, dentistry, geology, biology, dissection, and demonstrations by both the chemistry and physics classes. Other activities included a field trip to Northwestern University in the spring and a float in the Homecoming parade.

Our officers this year were Bill Shannon, president; Jim Huber, vice-president; and Virginia Voigt, secretary-treasurer. Mr. Clyde DeWalt was our advisor.

science club

history club

Contrary to the implications of our club's name, our purpose is to keep abreast of current events.

In order to accomplish our aim, we had, as guest speakers, faculty members Mr. Stan Yohe and Miss Elizabeth Snow. After Christmas we met jointly with Current Events Discussion Club to debate the Red China issue.

As club projects we bought a three-speed record player for the social science department, and we received an exchange album from Greece.

Our head historian, Lee Schwarz, was assisted by Brad Horton, vice-president; Marcia Goodman, secretary; Joyce Ericksen, treasurer; and Gail Brown, program chairman; with Miss Clara Diers as advisor.

Under the direction of Mr. George Wall, we high-stepped our way through one of our biggest years.

Besides marching at all the home football games, we also performed at one out-of-town game. After presenting a joint Christmas performance with the choir, we gave our annual concert in January. In the spring we sent several solos and ensembles to the district contest; these winners were sent along with the band to the state contest in Peoria.

Extra color was added to the band by our baton twirlers. This year they were Elaine Auwerda, Jackie Ewoski, Karen Geils, Karen Krause, Peg Maier, Madonna Quinn, and Nancy Weeks.

"High notes" in our organization were Jim Bodwell, president; Joel Jensen, vice-president; Marsha Walther, secretary; and Eileen Gamrath, treasurer. They were assisted by class representatives, Don Drew, freshman; Doug Reeve, sophomore; Jim Tarbox, junior; and Bob Goodfellow, senior.

Officers, standing: C. Brandt, M. Schiltz. Sitting: H. Clark, A. Brown, E. Iglehart, J. Stewart.

square dance club

"Swing your partners and corners all . . ."

Our Square Dance Club is a revival of the old Dance Club which we felt was just too much fun to let die. This year our meetings consisted of only square dancing, leaving ballroom to other organizations.

We met one Saturday night a month to learn, dance, laugh, and drink pop. In keeping with the gay mood of our members, we entered a float, "Oh Happy Day, We'll Beat the Devils," in the Homecoming parade.

Our chief squares this year were Jim Stewart, president; Emily Iglehart, vice-president; Helen Clark, secretary; Abbie Brown, treasurer; Carol Brandt, art and publicity chairman; and Mike Schiltz, refreshment chairman. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Green did the calling and taught us the dances, while Mr. Ralph Magor and Mr. Eugene DeClark were our advisors.

electronics club

Tuning in our Glenbard Electronics Club for the first time this year, we enlisted 35 members.

At our meetings we demonstrated various types of electronic equipment and explained their uses. As a result of an auction of second-hand electronic equipment, we were able to contribute over $50 to our treasury.

Our purpose is to share our knowledge with each other, and eventually to relieve S.P.S.C. members of some of their many responsibilities.

Chief engineer was Chuck Alton; his assistants were Larry Kidd, vice-president; and Tom Ellerman, secretary-treasurer. Mr. Wesley Gronewold served as faculty advisor.

To provide interested students with information about teaching and the colleges which can best prepare them for this career, we organized the Future Teachers of America at Glenbard.

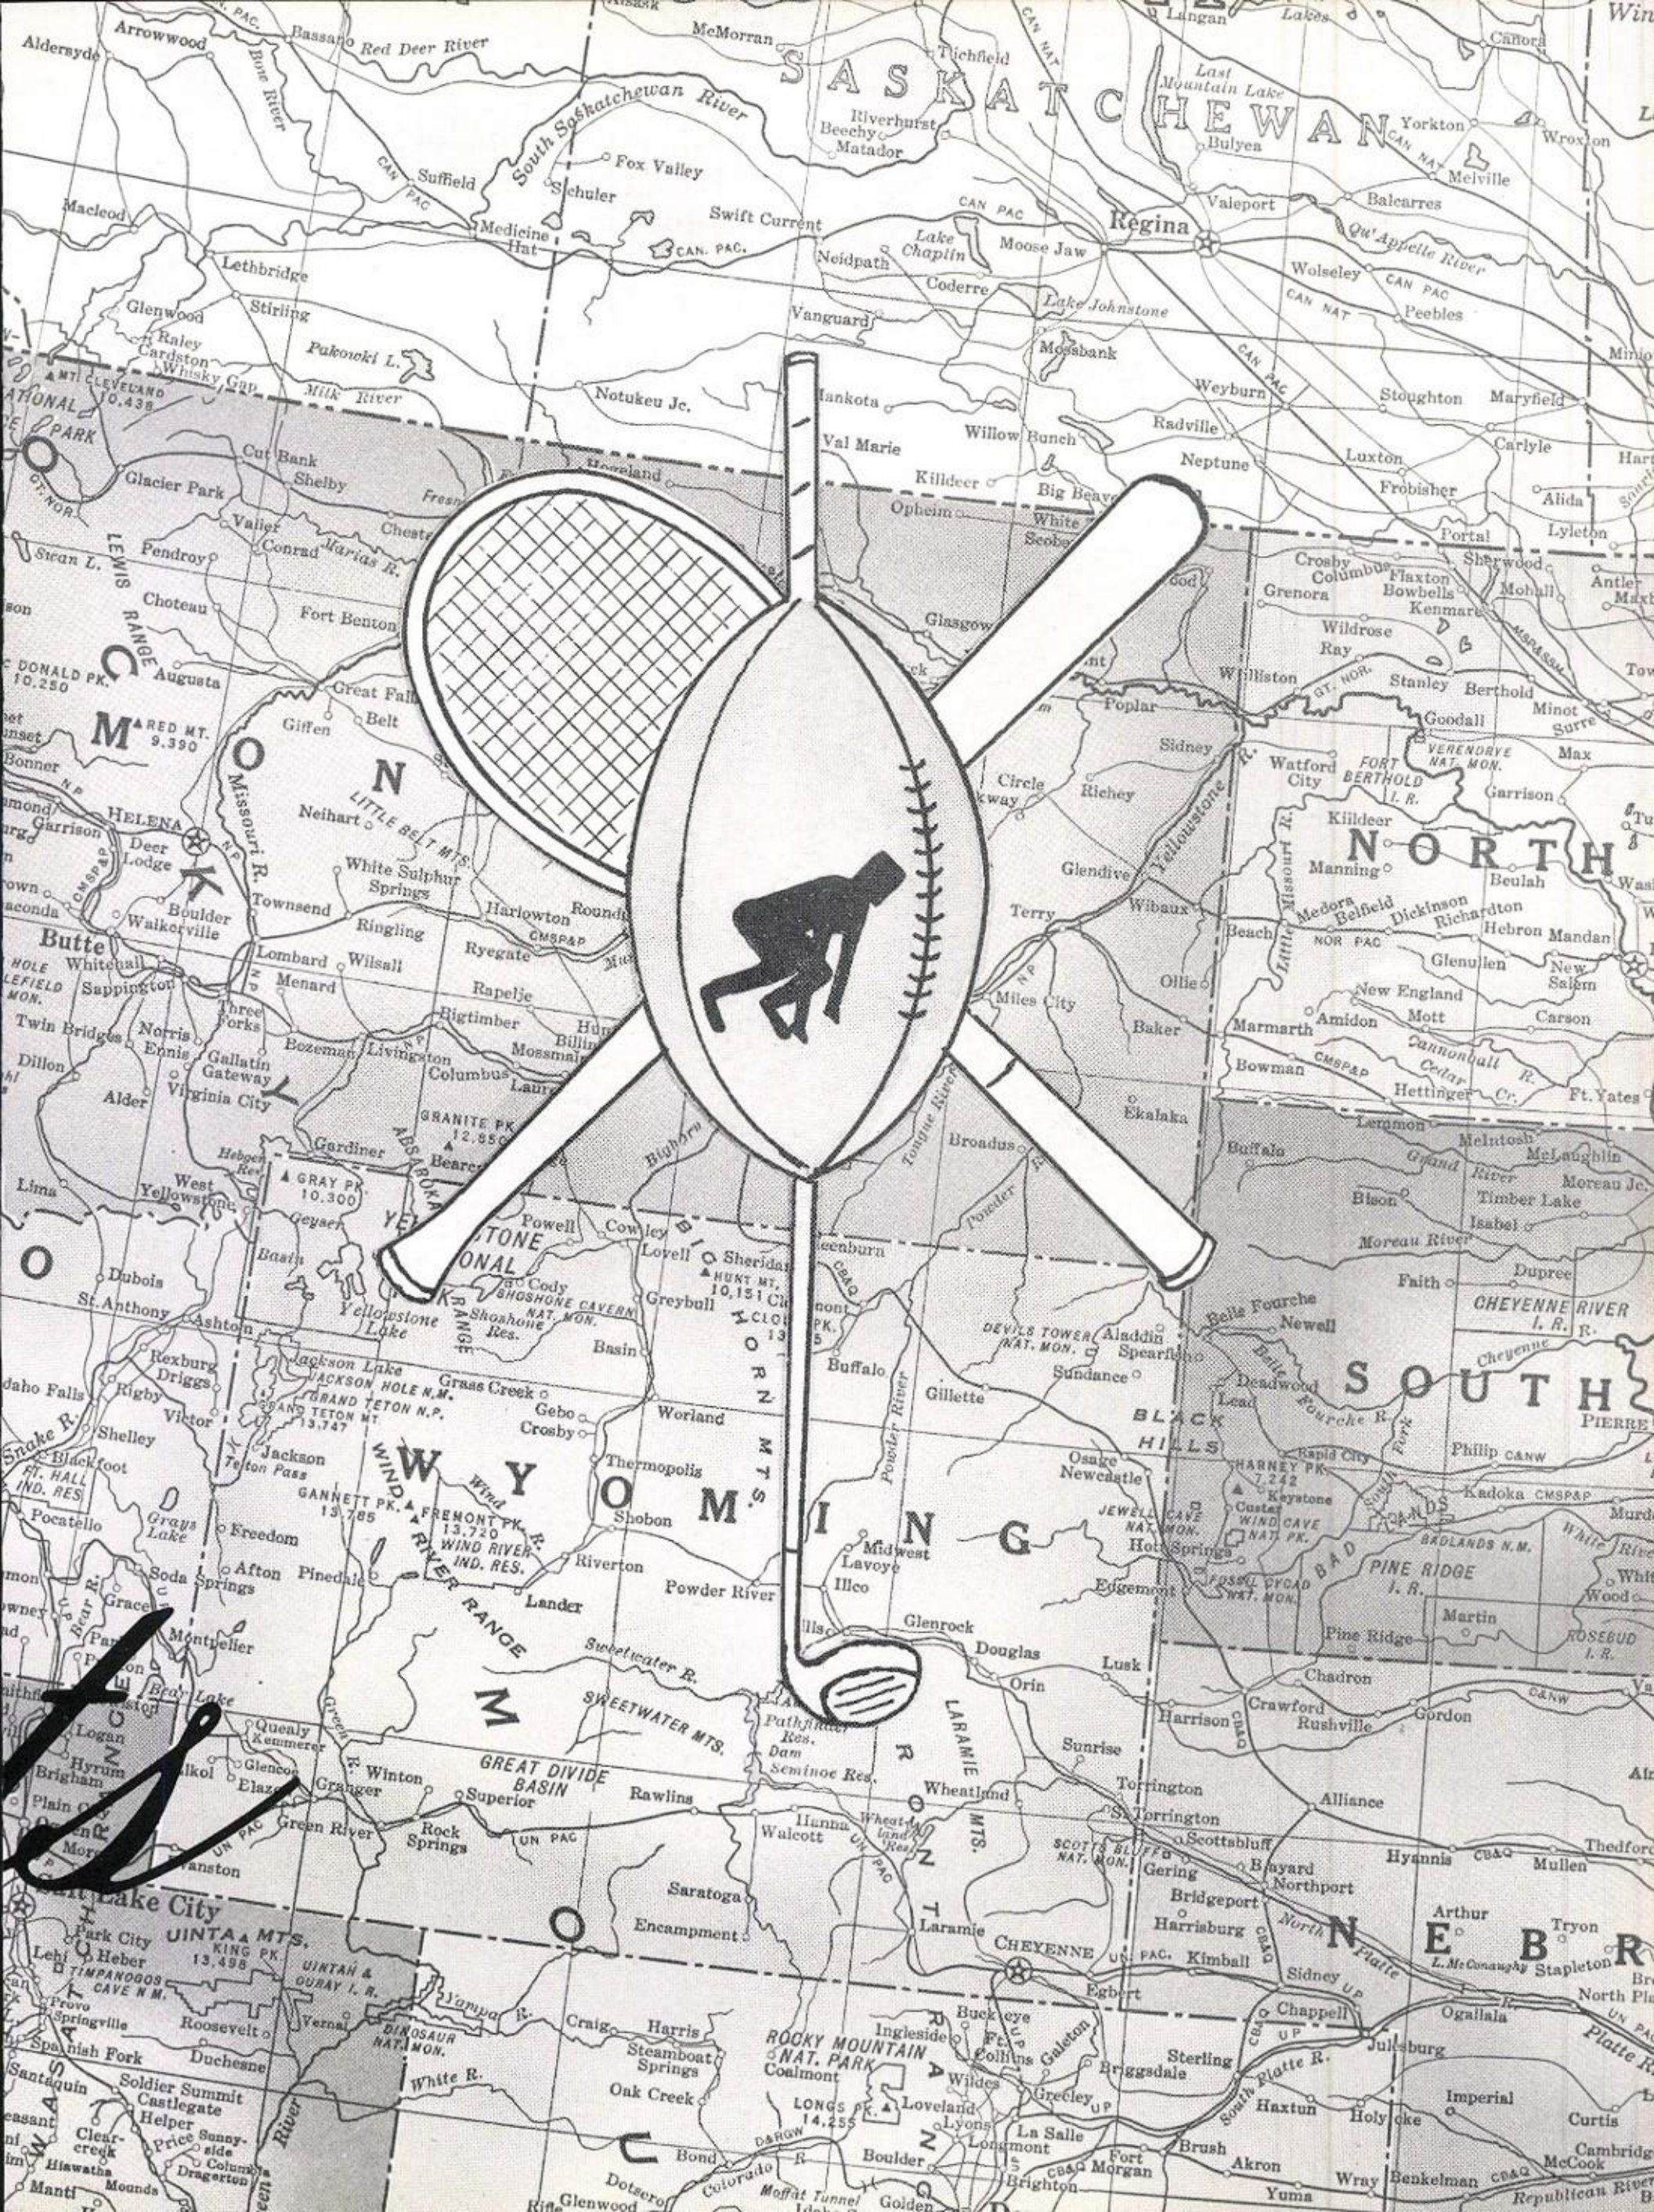

Since each branch of the national organization is named for an outstanding member of its respective community, we decided to name our branch the Fred L. Biester Future Teachers of America.

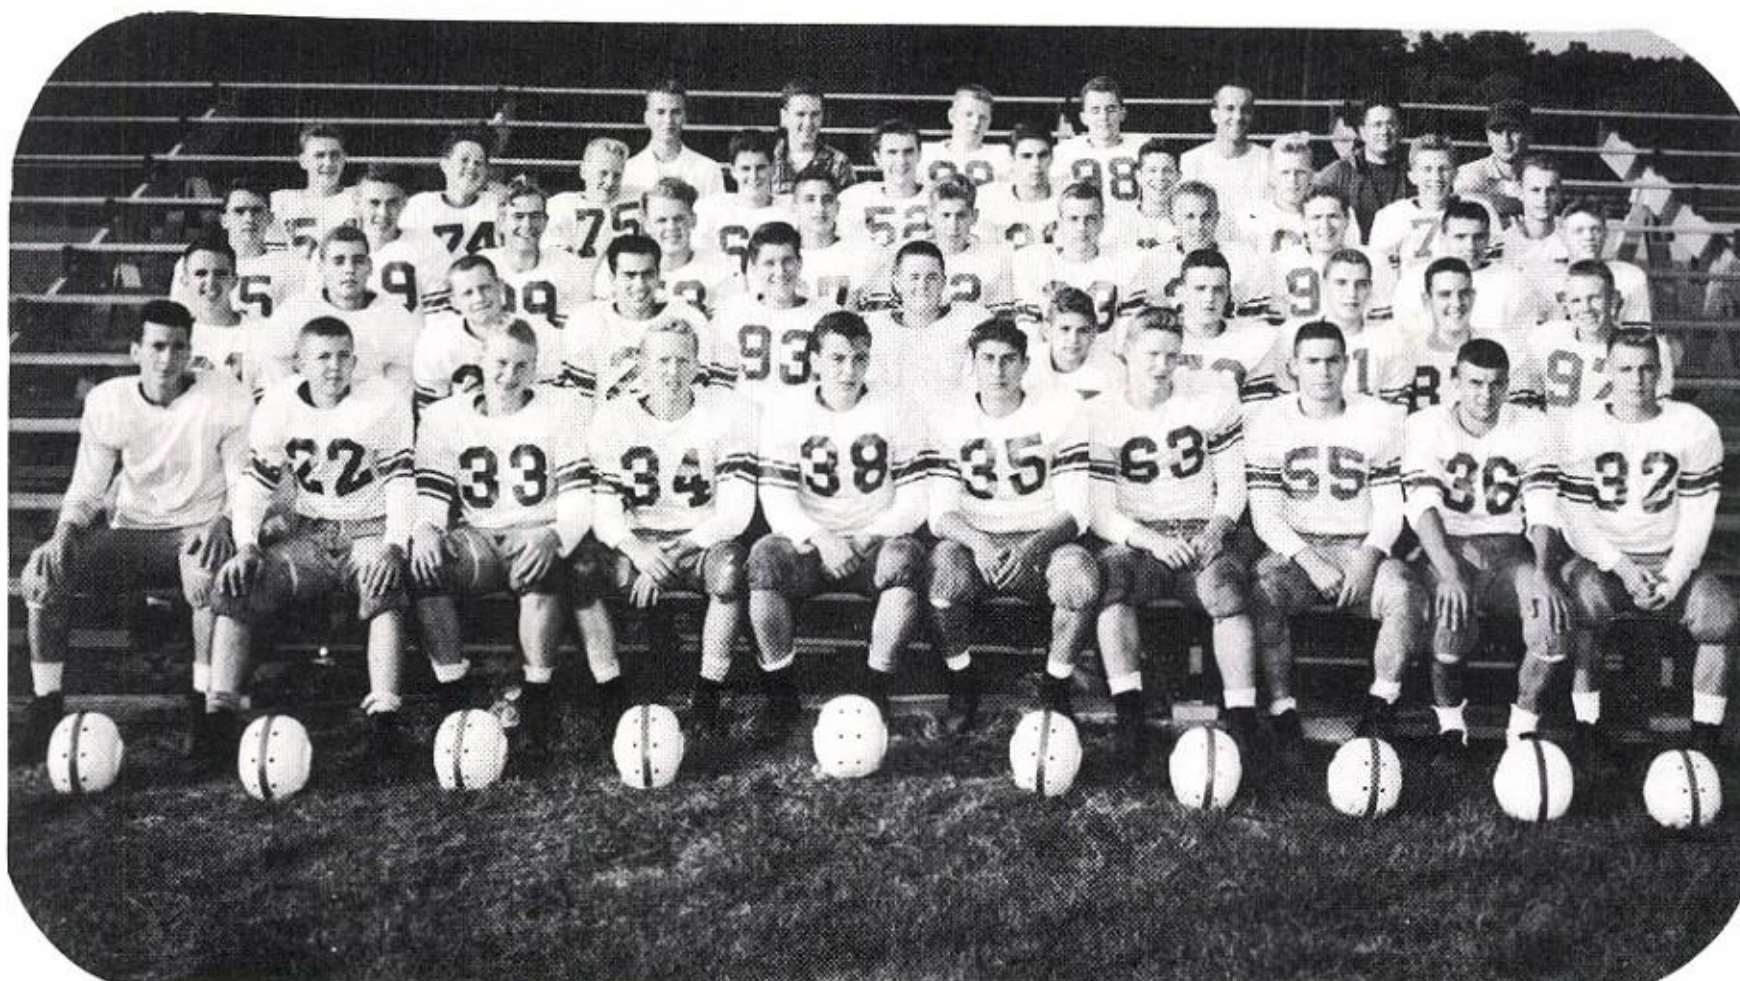

Our council consisted of Harold Harkess, president; Carol Brandt, vice-president; Mary Jo Finch, secretary; Bob Meyers, treasurer; and Pat Rodriguez, parliamentarian. Mr. Richard Piatt served as faculty advisor.

Weakened by injuries and lack of returning lettermen, the Glenbard Varsity football team was unable to post a single victory for first-year coach, Bill Kastrinos.

Glenbard opened their conference season at Downers Grove and threw a scare into the Trojans before losing 19-13. A last minute pass interception proved the decisive break. Trailing, 7-6, at the half, La Grange's fallen champions rallied over an injury-riddled Bard squad to a 20-7 triumph. York also took advantage of a weak Bard reserve strength to crush the Green and White, 33-0.

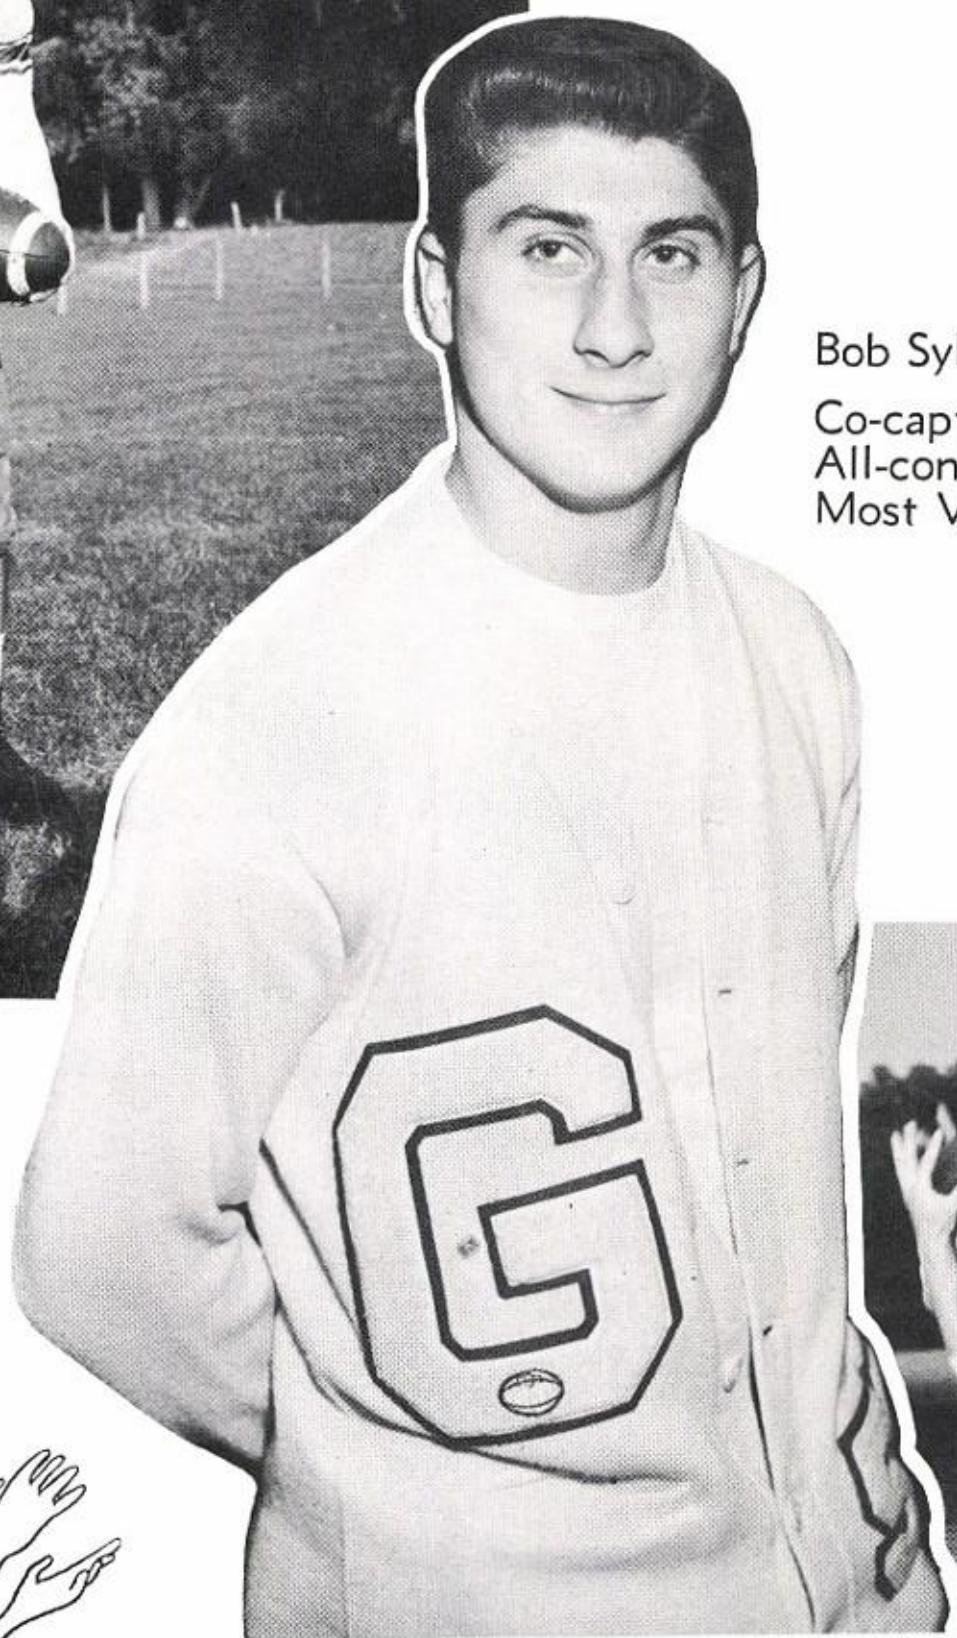

In the cellar battle, a Glenbard fumble proved the key to a close, 7-0 Cardinal triumph at Arlington Heights. In the annual Homecoming game, Glenbard met Hinsdale, the undefeated and unscored upon league leader. Although the Bards scored the only touchdown of the year against the Devils, Hinsdale walked off with a 48-6 victory.

Two Glenbard stalwarts, Bob Sylvester and Mike La Porte, received honorable mention in the all-conference balloting, and Bob received the additional honor of being voted the Most Valuable Player by his teammates.

Glenbard then completed its worst season in history with 33-6 and 34-6 defeats at the hands of Riverside-Brookfield and Maine.

frosh-soph football

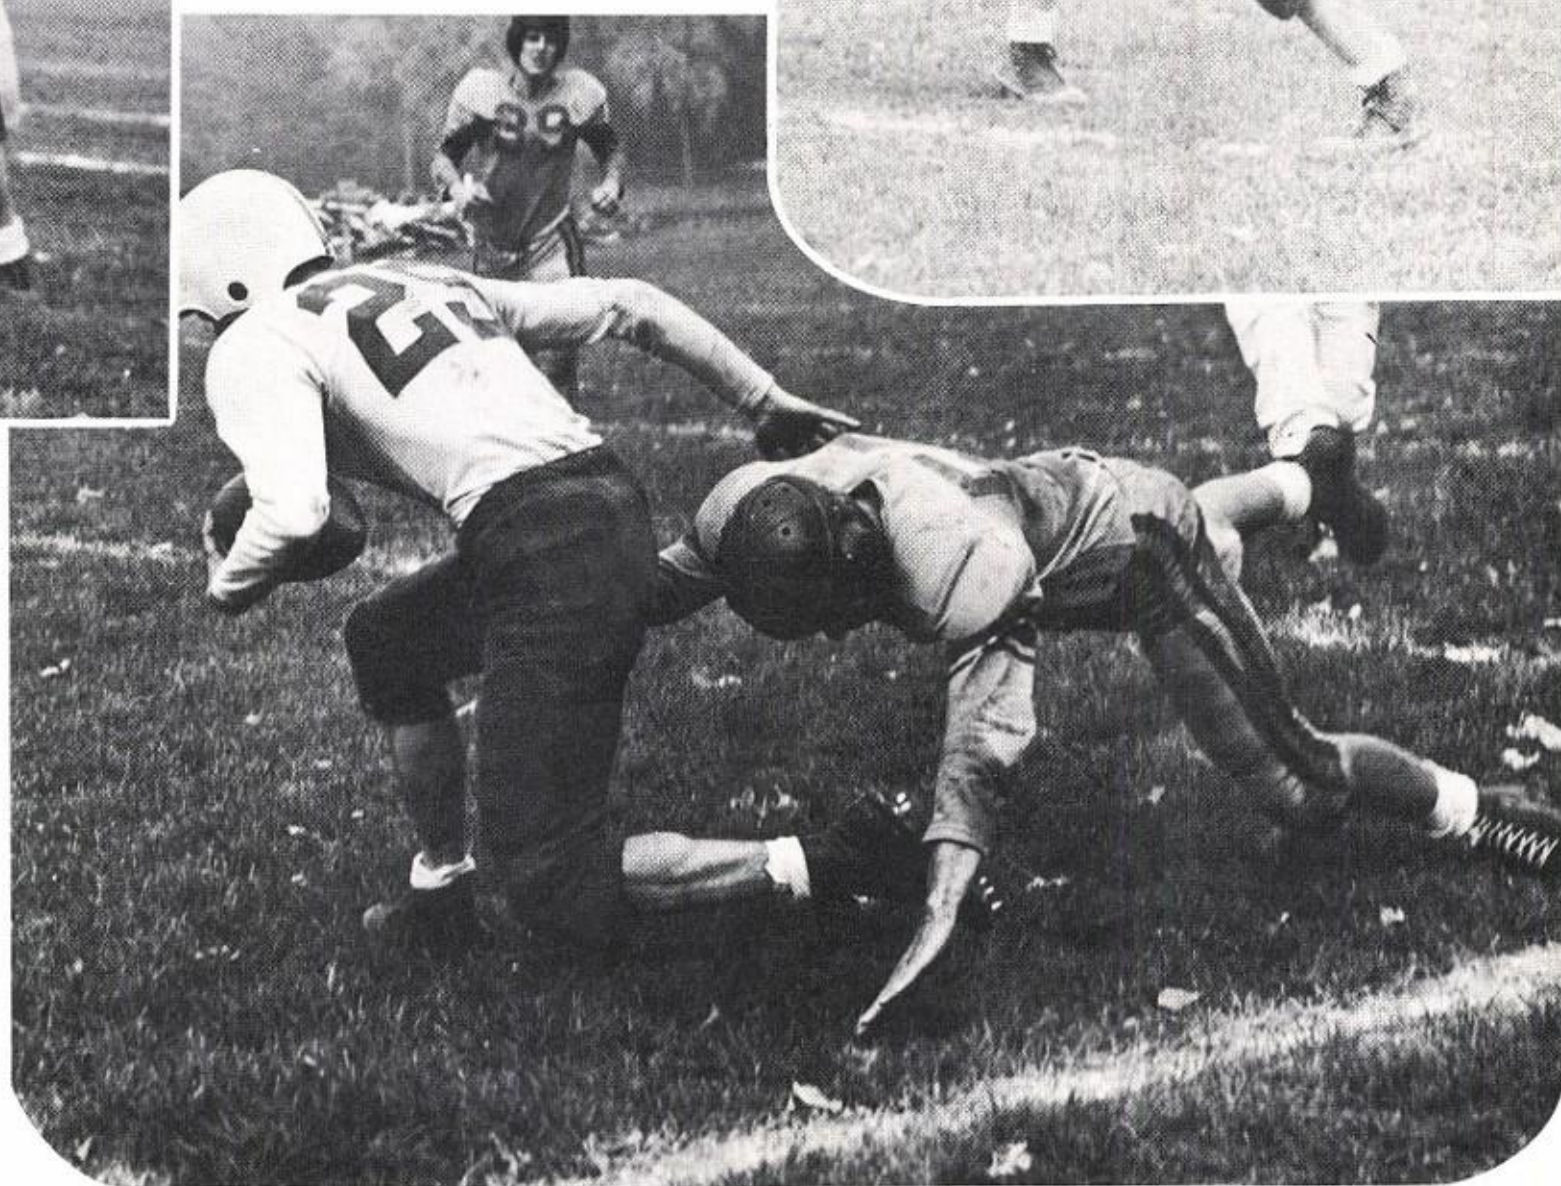

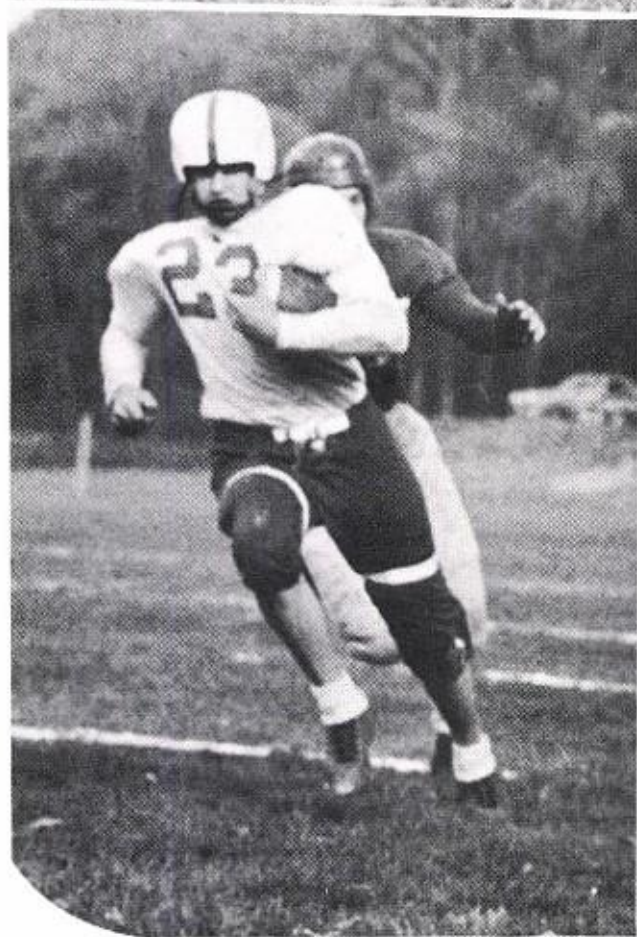

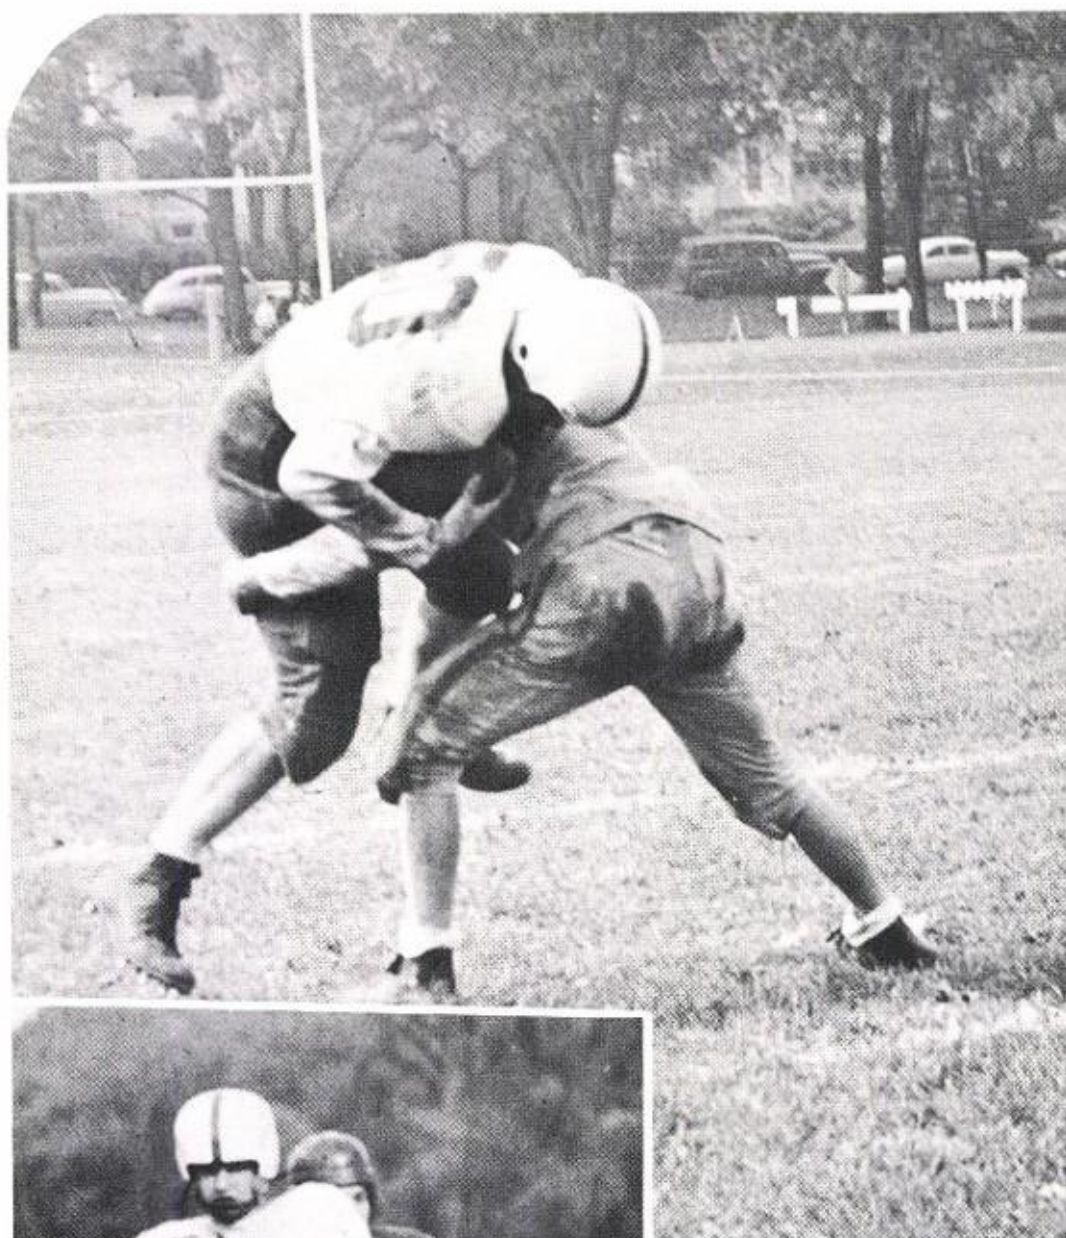

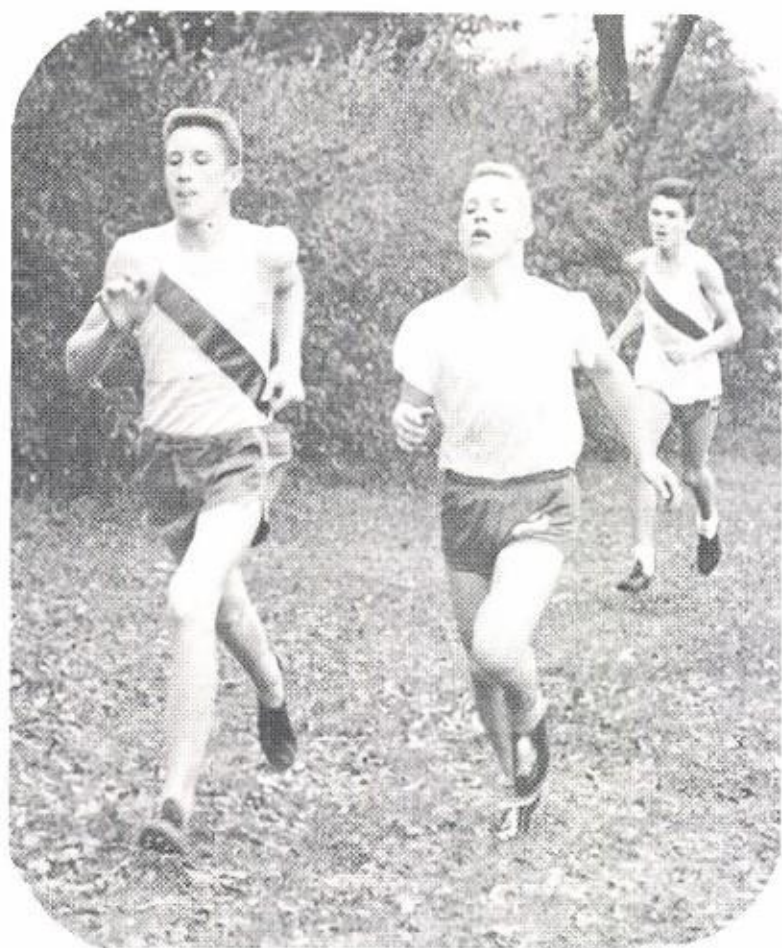

Winning three games, losing three, and tying one, the Glenbard frosh-soph finished fifth in the conference under the tutorship of the new coach, Warren Wiltsie.

The junior Bards opened their season by handing Downers Grove their only conference defeat, 6-0. Hopes for a conference championship in the underclassman division were, however, dispelled when La Grange overpowered the ponies, 13-0, in our home opener. Saving the day against our arch rivals from York, they emerged with a 14-6 victory over the last place Elmhurst outfit. Meeting the seventh place squad at Arlington Heights, Glenbard, overconfident, was held to a 6-6 tie.

Keeping Glenbard's Homecoming tradition alive, the underclassmen handed Hinsdale their first league defeat, 14-6, and moved themselves into third place. Hopes for a conference title were again renewed when Glenbard met Riverside-Brookfield in the Bard's home finale. Too much confidence told the story, however, and Riverside beat our boys, 28-13. In the final game of the season, Maine was victor, 21-13, to drop us into second division.

Glenbard's ponies showed a great potential during the season and pointed the way to better things in the varsity division.

After rolling undefeated through ten straight dual meets, the varsity cross-country team climaxed their season by winning the annual West Suburban Conference Meet. This clinched the Bards' first conference championship since 1935. Led by Phil Shepherd, Dick Pond, Bob Whitehead, Ed Morgan, Tom Dodd, and Tom Craig, the Hill-toppers outran Bloom, 24-31, Elgin, 18-62, and Wheaton, 25-36, in addition to their conference foes.

Keeping pace with their older brothers, the frosh-soph harriers also swept to the conference title, their second in succession. Led by Pete Newkirk and Cliff Winter, the baby Bards dropped only one of five dual meets and conquered the field in the Leyden Frosh-Soph Invitational and the West Suburban Conference meets.

Thinclads Aim Sights at State Title

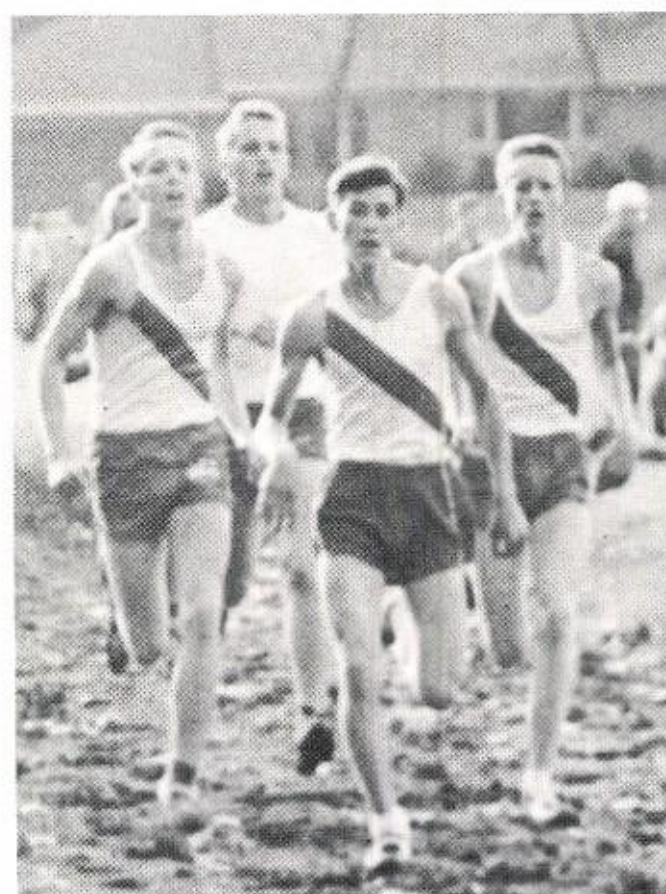

Second in District Qualifies Runners

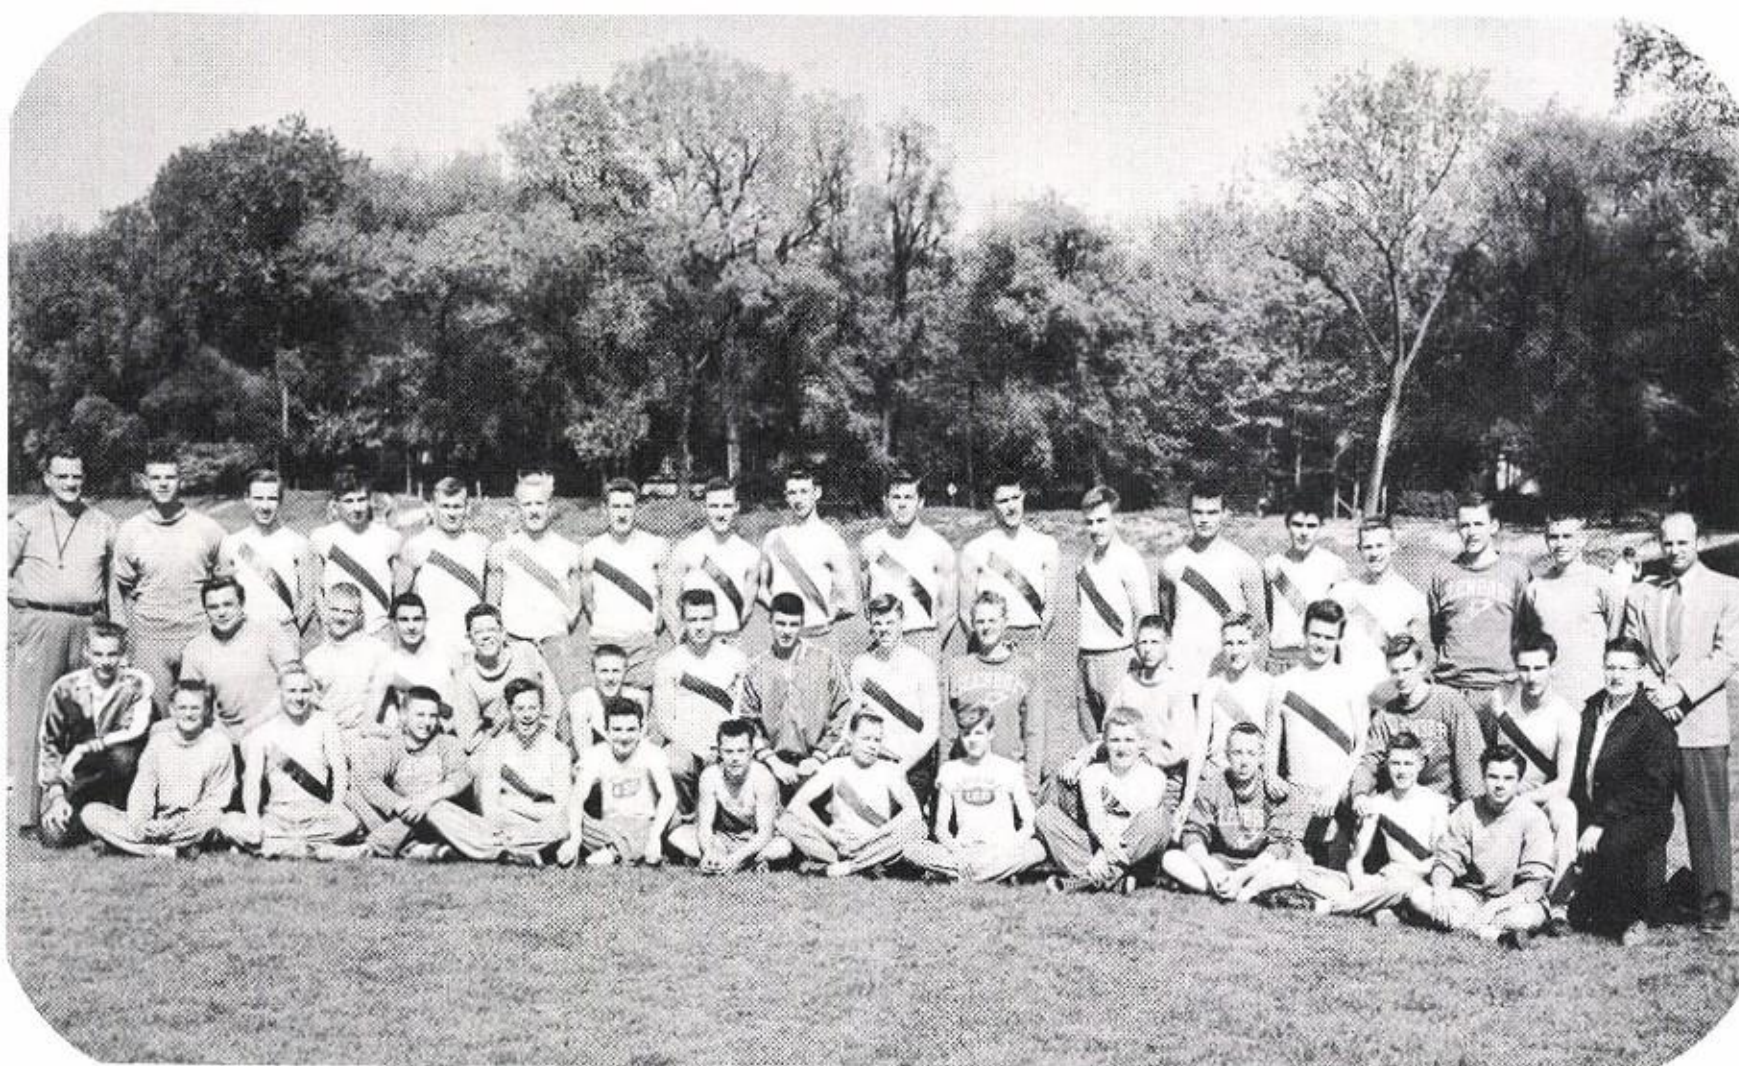

By placing second in the district meet for the second consecutive year, Glenbard's cross-country squad qualified for the state meet at Urbana tomorrow morning.

The previous Saturday the harriers captured the conference championship for the first time since 1935.

They're off! With their faces masks of determination, Glenbard's harriers demonstrated against Bloom the drive that has resulted in a conference first, a district second, and a trip downstate.

track

Predictions that Glenbard's 1954 track team would have a banner year were successfully fulfilled. Coached by George Dekan and C. A. R. Johnson, the tracksters completed the season with fourth place honors in the West Suburban Conference and third place in the district meet.

Led by Captain Tom Peters, the team took first place in the Class "A" Palatine Relays and Little Four meets, a first place tie with York in the DuPage County High School meet, and second place in the Hinsdale Relays.

Throughout the season Peters broke many discus and shot-put records. The height of his season was breaking the state shot-put record, which was broken again the next day.

boys' tennis

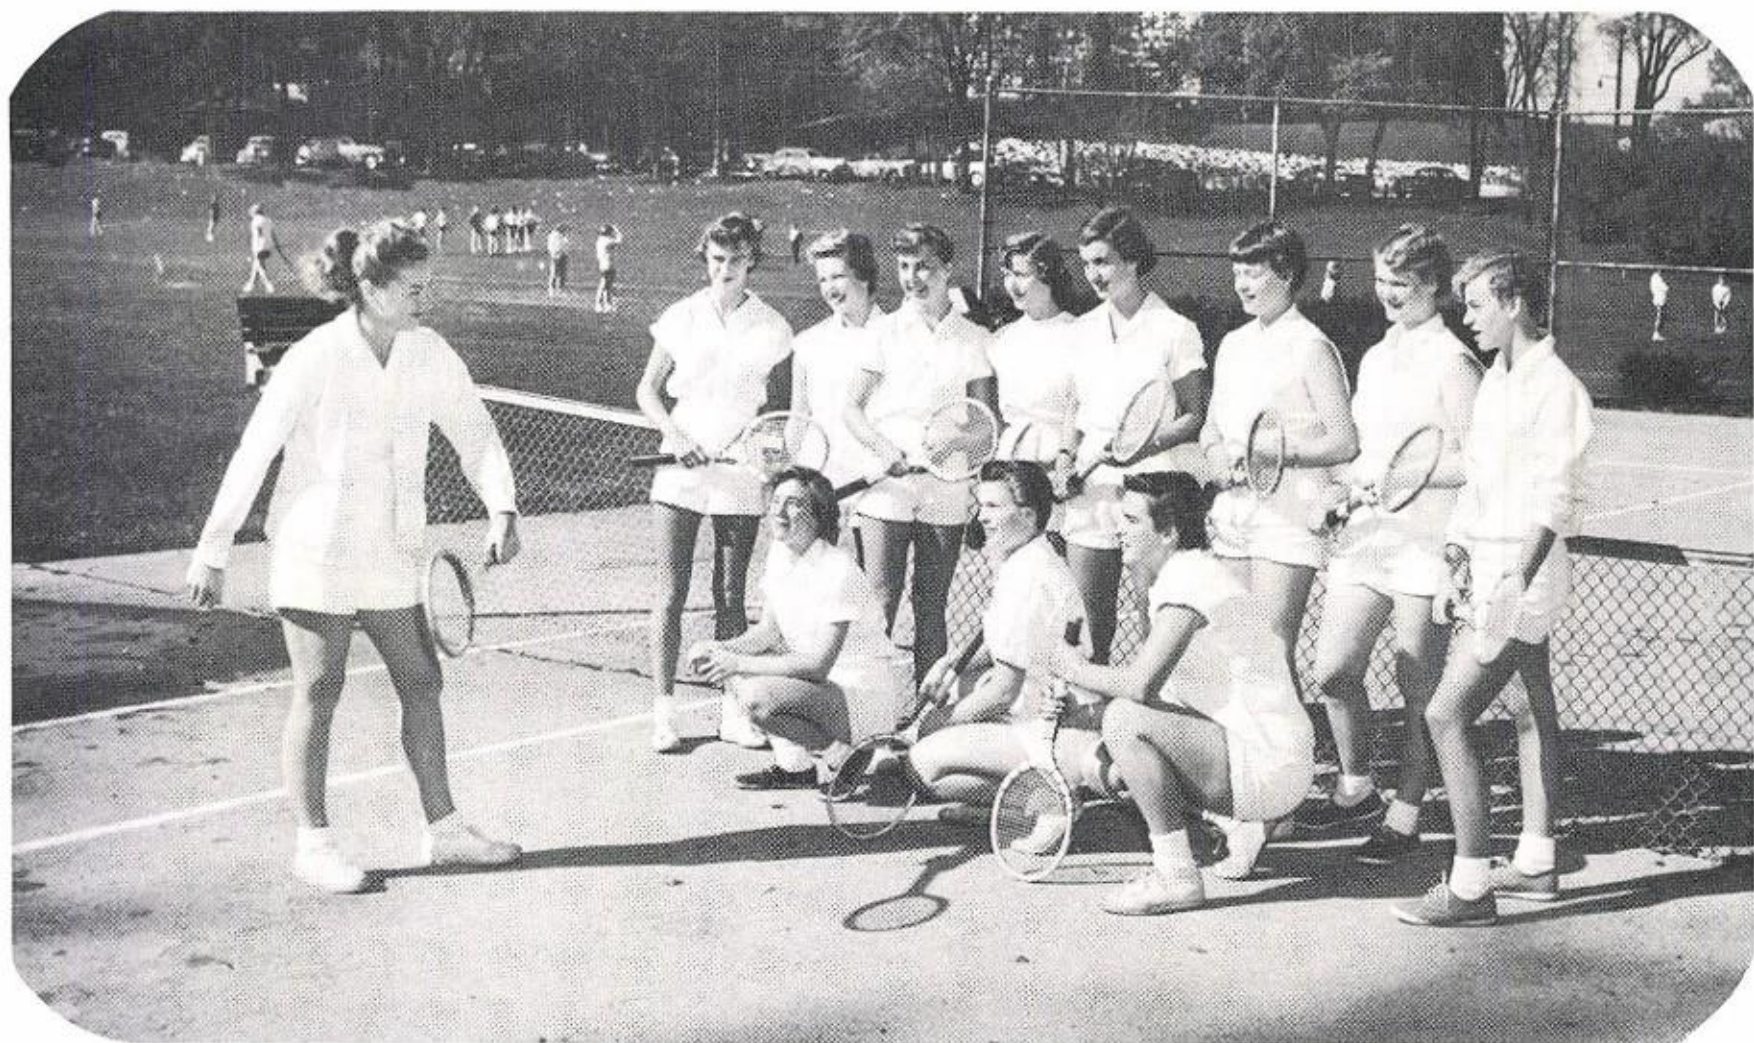

Netting four wins in seven dual meets, coach Ralph Magor's 1953-1954 tennis team finished fifth in the West Suburban Conference standings.

This year's team boasted two of the best net-men in the state, seniors Bill Stone and Bill Gooch. The pair won the district first doubles championship and won their first match in state competition.

ROW 1: Coach Ralph Magor, Tony D'Ambrose, Don Fairfield, Pete Wlodkowski, Harvey Mickelson, Richard Bickerstaff.

Kneeling: M. Knowles, M. Marston, S. Roblee. Standing: Coach E. Arlen, K. Cottington, A. Berquist, M. Schaus, H. Clark, B. Cole, M. Walther, B. Wold, M. Thompson.

girls' tennis

By placing first in the fall tournament with a record of three wins and no defeats, the 1954 girls' tennis team completed a successful season.

Led by captain Mudge Knowles, first singles, the first line also included Sue Roblee and Marion Thomson, doubles.

Under the guidance of Miss Eleanor Arlen, the racketeers netted their three victories against Proviso, Maine, and York by respective scores of 5-1, 3-1, and 3-2.

golf

The Glenbard golf team finished its 1954 season with a successful record of eight victories and three losses.

Rounding out the season, the linksters placed third in both the conference and district meets. In the conference meet, Dean Refram shot the year's best total, 72, which placed him third in the individual conference standings.

Their captain was Dean Refram, and Mr. George Haas was their coach.

baseball

Hampered by weak hitting, Glenbard's 1954 baseball team, tutored by La Verne ("Liz") Astroth, finished the season with four wins and twelve losses while capturing seventh place in the final West Suburban Conference ratings.

Leading the pitching staff was senior John Newkirk, who posted two victories against three defeats. One of the defeats was a one-hitter in the district tournament.

Junior Bob Meyer led the way to hitting honors and junior Fred Rench, although plagued by a late season slump, finished right behind him.

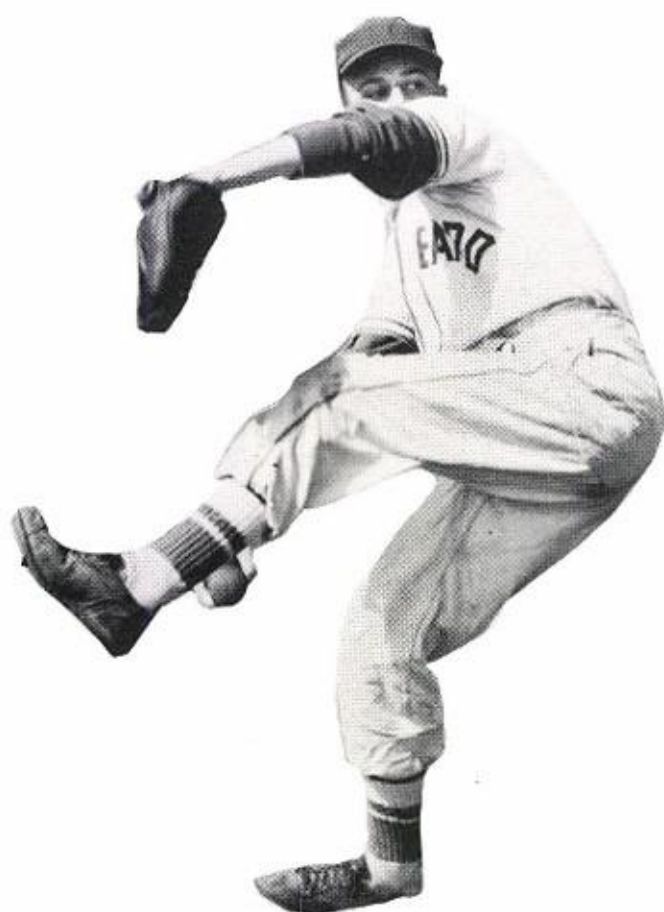

For the first time in Glenbard history, a frosh-soph baseball team was organized. Under the leadership of coach Bill Rider, the Ponies finished the season with a slate of five wins to six losses.

varsity basketball

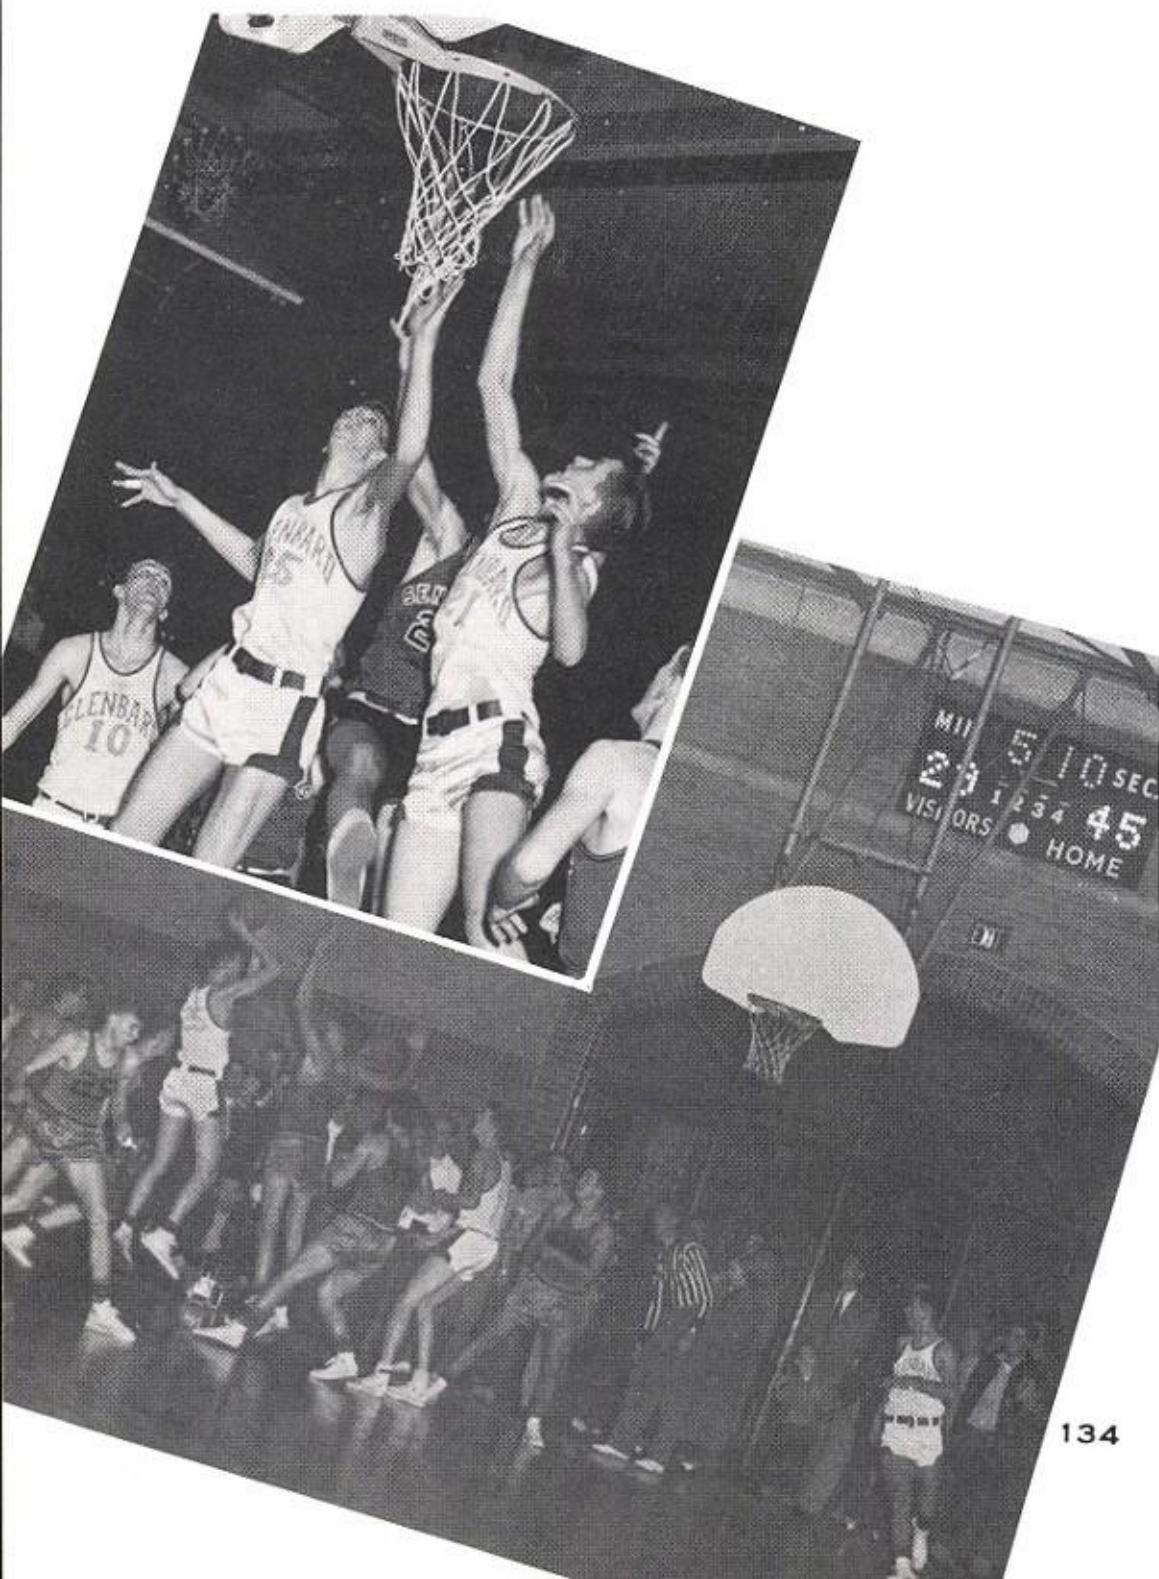

The Varsity basketball team heralded Glenbard's return to athletic prominence by posting an enviable record of 18 victories and 7 defeats. Boasting the highest scoring team in the conference, the Bards, coached by Bob Metcalf, in his first year on the hill, surged to their best season since 1948. The squad was noted for their unquenchable spirit and will to win, proven by their De Kalb Holiday Tournament title, their Franklin Park Regional Tournament championship, and their third place finish in the rugged West Suburban Conference. Paced by the all-around brilliance of Bob Whitehead and Jerry Schaus, the team was made up of seniors Whitehead, Schaus, Bob Edwards, and Ed Morgan, and juniors John Thomas and Dick Pond. Valuable reserves were senior Jim Smith, juniors Bob Bennet, Bob Biehn, and Bruce Velde, and sophomore Bill Biederman.

Glenbard 76 — Wheaton 49

Defeating Wheaton for the first time in four years, the Bards opened their season with an impressive victory. After the first quarter, the toothless tigers offered little resistance to the "Green Wave," led by Bob Whitehead, who scored 33 points, and Jerry Schaus, who tallied 18.

Glenbard 60 — Downers Grove 52

Downers Grove's conference champions were less than spectacular as they dropped the West Suburban Conference opener to the hard-driving Green and White, 60-52. A late Downers Grove press cut the Bards' 47-35 third-period lead to make the game look closer than it was. John Thomas led the Hilltoppers with 16 points.

La Grange 79 — Glenbard 76

Although Glenbard held a ten point lead at one time late in the game, the La Grange jinx overtook them and handed the Bards their first defeat, 79-76. Bob Whitehead continued his sensational scoring pace as he netted 30 points, but his effort was not enough as the locals dropped from the conference lead.

Glenbard 63 — York 54

In a battle of Green and White, Glenbard rallied in the last quarter to hand York their first defeat of the season. The Dukes led, 36-30, at halftime and 46-44 at the end of the third quarter but, in the final stanza, it was all Glenbard and our Green and White posted their most satisfying win of the season. Bob Whitehead and Jerry Schaus paced the Bards with 19 and 18 points.

Glenbard 71 — Arlington Heights 58

The following night, the cellar-dwelling Cardinals were unable to halt the Bard steamroller as the hard-driving locals pulled into a first place tie. Nineteen points by center John Thomas paced the Hilltopper attack.

Glenbard 61 — Shabbona 47

Outscoring Shabbona 23-10 in the final period, Glenbard turned its De Kalb Holiday Tournament opener into a rout. Bob Whitehead's 19 markers paced the squad.

Glenbard 66 — De Kalb 55

Glenbard hummed into the tournament semi-finals by knocking host De Kalb out of the running with a convincing win. The Hilltoppers, paced by Jerry Schaus, who scored 20, and Bob Whitehead, who scored 19, took over in the first period and led throughout the contest.

Glenbard 57 — Oregon 51

The Bards gained the tournament finals with a 57-51 victory over a stubborn Oregon quintet. Although the Bards, with Bob Whitehead tallying 27 points, led 43-27 at the end of three periods, Oregon rallied in the final quarter to give their fans something to cheer about.

Glenbard 68 — Rochelle 62

Bob Whitehead tallied six points in the final minute to lead the Hilltoppers past highly-rated Rochelle, giving Glenbard their fourth De Kalb Tournament title. The Bards trailed throughout the game, never leading until the closing sixty seconds. Bob Whitehead, who dropped 28 points through the hoop, was voted the tournament's Most Valuable Player, and was the only unanimous selection for the all-tournament first string. Bob Edwards and Jerry Schaus were also honored as they were picked for the second team.

Glenbard 81 — Hinsdale 52

In their first 1955 contest, the red-hot Hilltoppers knocked Hinsdale out of a first place tie in the West Suburban Conference. The highly-rated Red Devils did not offer much resistance as the Bards netted 81 points—a new school record—without much difficulty. Jerry Schaus, with 24 points, and Bob Whitehead, who tallied 22, took scoring laurels.

Glenbard 71 — Riverside-Brookfield 62

The following evening, the red-hot Bulldogs gave Glenbard a scare before faltering in the second half. The Blue and White trailed at half-time by only three points, but a Bard rally in the third period put the game on ice. Jerry Schaus again led the team with 19 points, beating out Whitehead, who scored 18, and Dick Pond, who made 17 points.

Glenbard 64 — Maine 61

In what was probably the most thrilling game of the year, Glenbard's stalwarts pulled undisputed first place in the West Suburban Conference out of the fire by beating Maine in the last seconds, 64-61. Trailing 45-30 at one point in the game, our stalwarts were behind by 11 points at the end of the third period, 45-34. The Bards' 30 points in the final quarter enabled them to take the lead with only seven seconds left to play. Whitehead paced the cold Hilltopper squad with 28 points.

Downers Grove 74 — Glenbard 72

A red hot Downers Grove quintet gained revenge from a previous defeat and moved into a first place tie with the Hilltoppers by defeating them, 74-72, in a well-played contest at Glenbard. Bod Edwards, with 19, and John Thomas, with 17, paced the squad.

Robinson 58 — Glenbard 57

With a fluke basket in the final seconds, Robinson defeated the varsity 58-57, dampening an otherwise successful road trip into southern Illinois. Four players scored over 10 points to lead the Hilltoppers' balanced attack.

La Grange 79 — Glenbard 66

Continuing their midseason slump, the varsity fell into third place in the conference, in a heart-breaker at La Grange. The score was tied, 52-52, at the end of three stanzas, but a strong fourth-quarter Lion rally buried the Bards, 79-66. Schaus kept the Hilltoppers alive with 20 points.

Glenbard 82 — Wheaton 51

Terminating their 3 game losing streak, the Bards completely crushed an inept Wheaton quintet, 82-51, to set a new school record. Leading 40-11, at half-time, the game was no contest from the start.

York 88 — Glenbard 65

Revenge was sweet, for York that is, as the Dukes swept the Bards off the floor in a runaway at York. Little Don Anderson, the conference's leading scorer, stole everything but the Bard uniforms while tallying 24 points. Our stellar scorer Whitehead, kept his pace while depositing 30 markers through the hoops.

Glenbard 63 — Arlington Heights 62

Still recovering from three consecutive conference setbacks, the varsity went after their seventh league triumph in good fashion until the final period which almost proved fatal as we were outscored, 23-14. Schaus' 20 markers and Whitehead's 15 paced the ailing Bards.

Glenbard 61 — Hinsdale 55

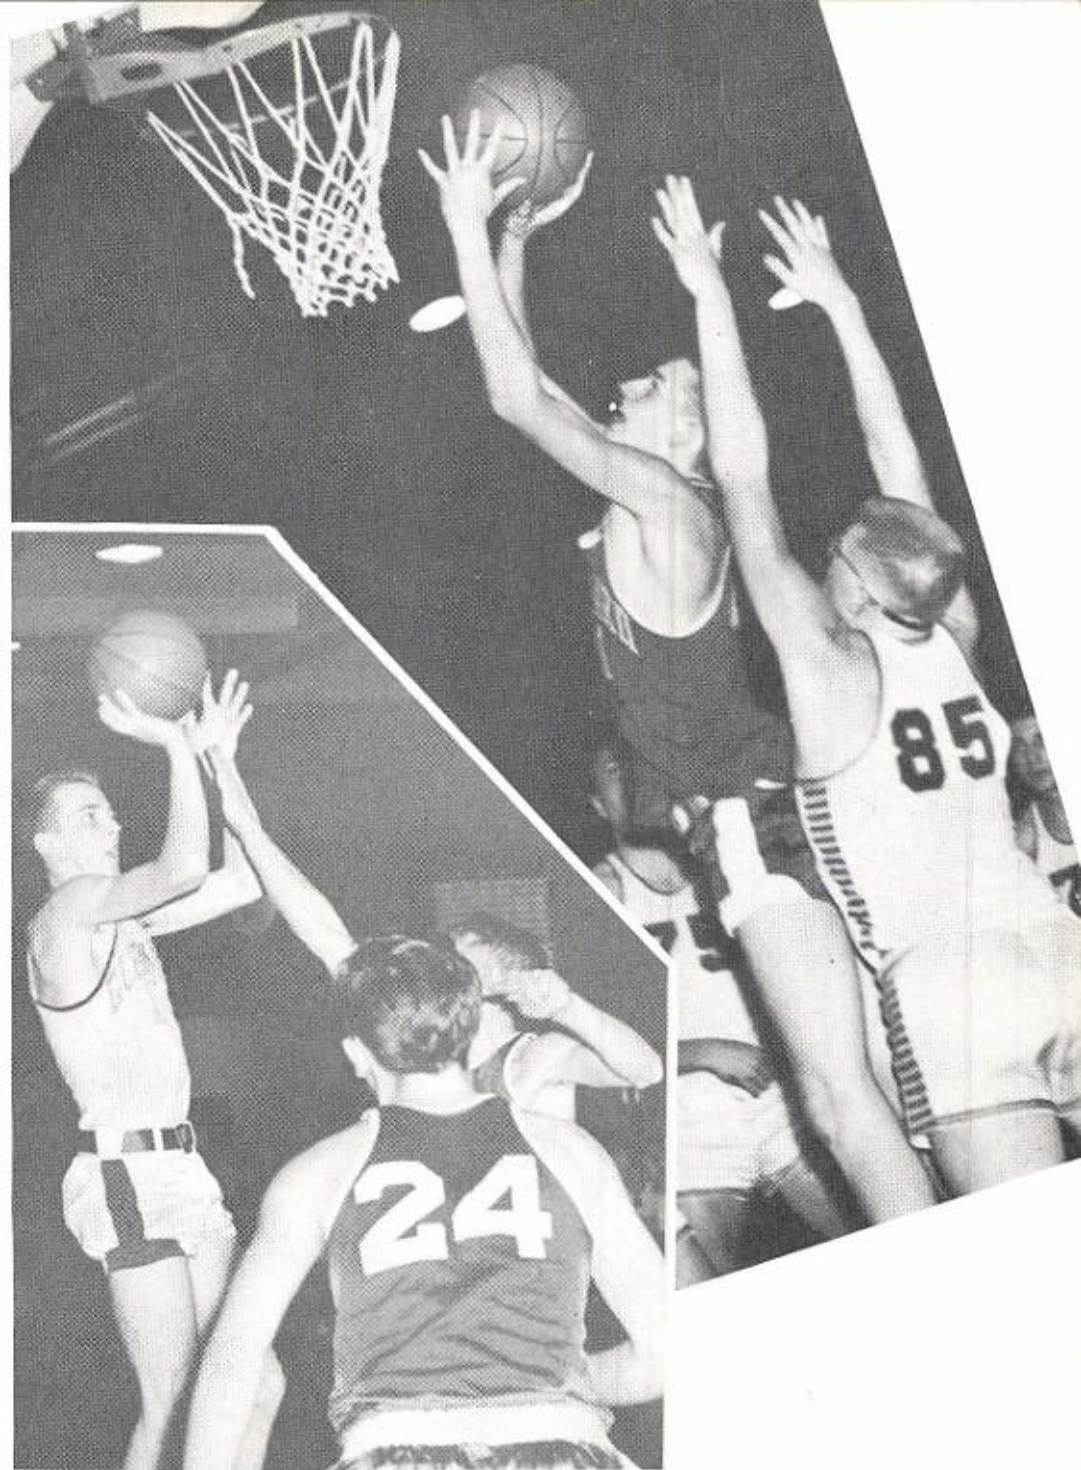

Beating the Red Devils at their own slow game, the Hilltoppers clinched third place, 61-55. Leading at half, 33-22, the Green and White were almost overtaken in the last quarter again but 20 second-half free-throws in twenty tries led them to victory. Schaus and Whitehead paced the Bards with 24 and 20 tallies respectively.

Riverside-Brookfield 55 — Glenbard 53

R. B.'s Bulldogs, the hottest team in the league, came from behind in the final period to deal Glenbard their fifth West Suburban defeat, 55-53. "Whitey" got 18, Schaus 16, and Morgan 9, but it was not enough to get the Hilltoppers past Riverside's 19 last-quarter points.

Springfield 71 — Glenbard 67

For the second straight night, the Hilltoppers folded in the final period to drop a non-conference start to Springfield. Schaus garnered 18, John Thomas 16, and Ed Morgan 11, but Springfield's balanced attack and backboard control proved the decisive factor.

Glenbard 94 — Maine 68

In their final home contest and conference start, the Bards reverted to their early season form to crush Maine, set a new school scoring record, and satisfy a howling crowd of partisans. Whitehead, garnering 30, and Schaus, netting 26, paced the team.

Glenbard 67 — Maine 40

Opening its state title bid in the regional tourney at Leyden, Glenbard walked over their conference rivals from Maine, 67-40. A first quarter stall by Maine worried the Bards, but Whitehead's 22 points enabled the Bards to win easily.

Glenbard 55 — Leyden 54

Advancing to the Regional final, the Hilltoppers eked out a victory in a down-to-the-wire thriller over the tournament hosts. With only one second left on the clock and Glenbard leading, 55-54, a Leyden player was awarded a free-throw. The tension was too much, however, and he missed. Leyden scored on a tip-in of that free-toss, but the officials ruled that time was out, and that Glenbard won. Bob Whitehead again showed the way with 24 points.

Glenbard 55 — Oak Park 53

Oak Park's Huskies caused Glenbard fans to swallow their hearts many times during the thrilling Regional championship contest, but, at the conclusion, the Hilltoppers had triumphed to win their way into the Arlington Heights Sectional Tournament. Oak Park stalled throughout the third period, but alert play by the Bards turned the tide during that period, giving the game to Glenbard. Jerry Schaus, with 19 points, Bob Whitehead, who tallied 17, and John Thomas, with 11, proved pacemakers for the spirited Green and White.

Hilltoppers Smash Maine, 94-68, After R-B Loss; Bards Hold Third in West Suburban Conference

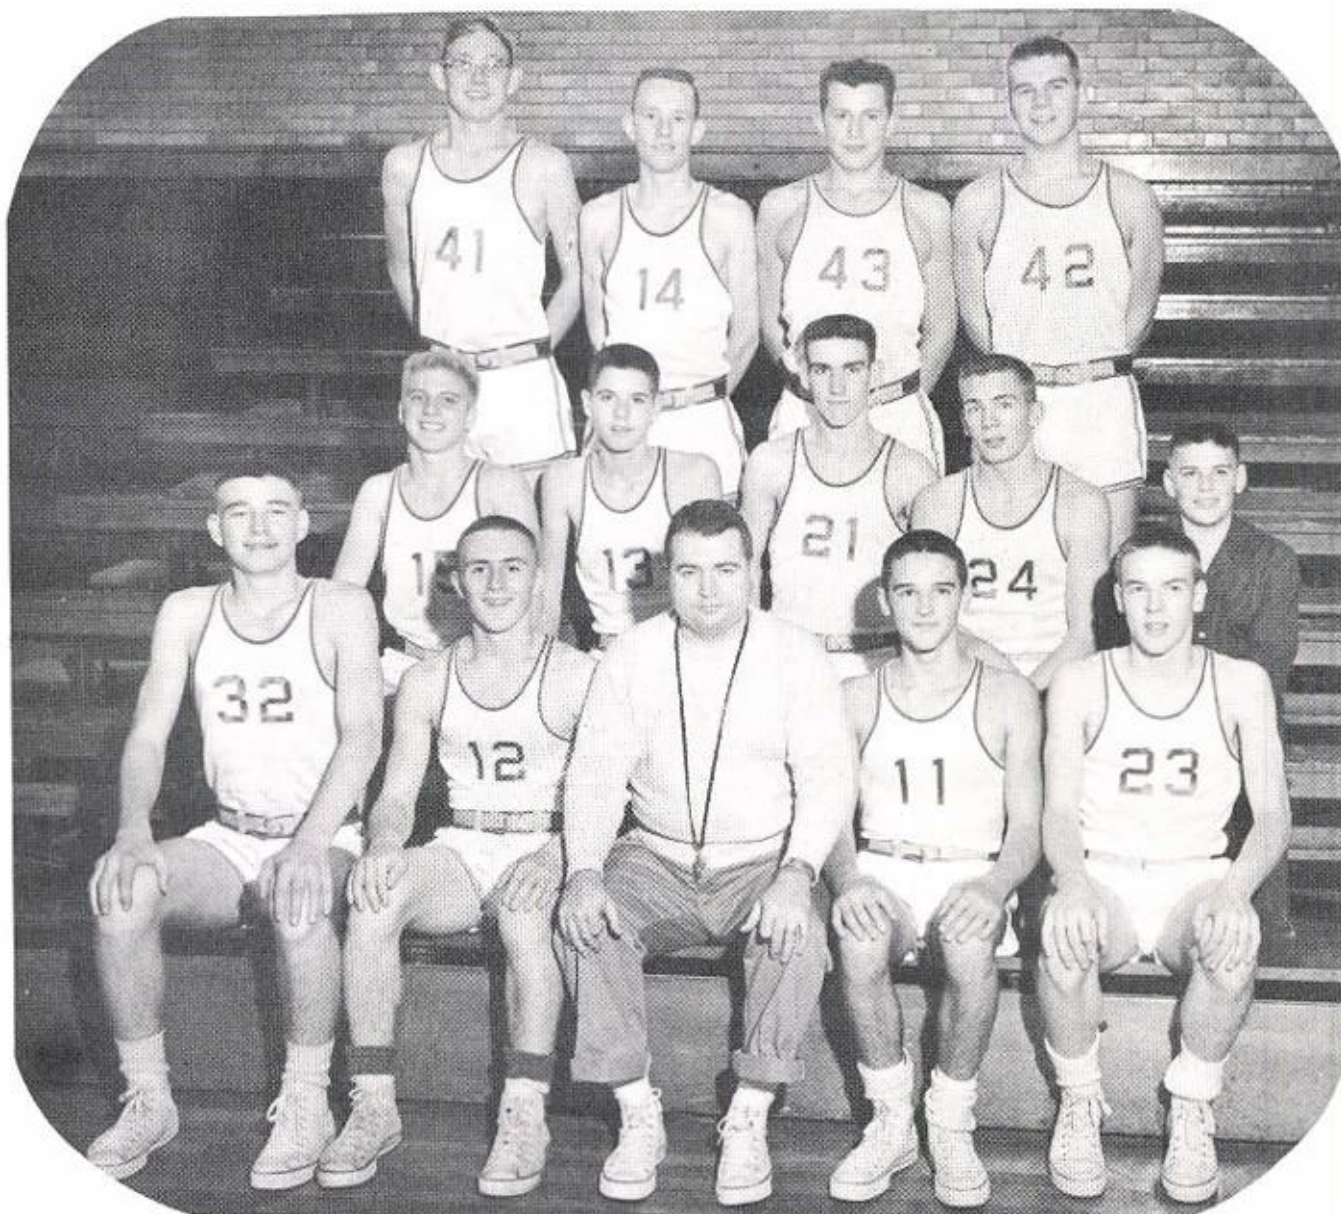

After a heart-breaking 55-53 loss to R-B, Glenbard's erratic cagers wrapped up their conference schedule in third place by trouncing a luckless Maine quintet last Friday on the Hilltop, 94-68.

frosh-soph basketball

Winning Glenbard's first West Suburban Conference Frosh-Soph basketball championship, coach Bill Rider's polished squad posted a brilliant record of seventeen wins against only one defeat. The underclass cagers lost their conference opener and then sped through sixteen consecutive victories. Although this season's quintet boasted good scoring, defense, ball-handling, and poise, their greatest asset was depth. Bill "Bumper" Biederman, Burt Carle, Tom Dodd, Rich Edwards, R. M. Edwards, Bob Lewis, Dave Obrecht, and Dick Temple all saw a great deal of action. Rounding out the squad were Russ Crawford, Hunter Finch, John Inglis, Bill McConochie, John Reinhart, and Fred Winterer.

Glenbard 47 — Wheaton 24

The Bard underclassmen opened their season with an impressive triumph over a weak Wheaton quintet. The Ponies' 29 free-throws played a major part in the scoring. Bill Biederman, with 20 points, and Dave Obrecht, with 14, paced the scoring.

Downers Grove 45 — Glenbard 43

A red-hot Downers Grove team handed the Ponies their only loss in a thriller at Downers Grove. The Trojans had a big lead which our stalwarts couldn't quite surmount. The tying basket was, however, scored only seconds after the final horn.

Glenbard 57 — La Grange 43

Halting La Grange's twenty-game conference winning streak, the frosh-soph avenged themselves for the previous week end. The contest was a thriller for three quarters, but the Ponies pulled ahead in convincing fashion during the final period. Biederman's 26 and Bob Lewis' fine floor game and 11 points, paced the Ponies.

Glenbard 47 — York 29

York offered little resistance as the Ponies climbed all over them for an impressive triumph. Bill Biederman, with 24, paced the attack that lodged the Ponies in first place to stay.

Glenbard 48 — Arlington Heights 35

Soundly defeating one of the best and surely the biggest frosh-soph quintets seen this season, the Bard underclassmen completed the 1954 portion of their schedule in a first place deadlock with Hinsdale and La Grange. Biederman again starred with 29 markers.

Glenbard 48 — Hinsdale 45

In one of their poorer games of the year, the Ponies barely defeated the Hinsdale frosh-soph, 48-45. Glenbard held a good lead for three quarters, but Hinsdale came alive in the fourth period to seriously challenge the Bards. With Glenbard leading, 46-45, Rich Edwards put in a jump shot to clinch the game and to boost his total to 22, high for the contest.

Glenbard 80 — Riverside-Brookfield 44

Almost breaking the varsity scoring mark, the Ponies unveiled a great scoring attack that left the Zoo-towners limp from the beginning of the one-sided contest. Biederman, Edwards, and Carle led the scoring with 19, 18, and 11 points.

Glenbard 60 — Maine 26

Completing the first round of conference play deadlocked with La Grange for first place, the Ponies had another rout on their hands. Seventeen points by Dave Obrecht led the team against feeble Maine resistance.

Glenbard 67 — Downers Grove 51

Revenge was sweet as the Ponies made amends for their only defeat. The Green and White were never headed as they ran to another impressive point total. Dick Temple, Bill Biederman, Rich Edwards, and Dave Obrecht led with 19, 16, 12, and 10 points respectively.

Glenbard 70 — Robinson 47

Playing one of the better junior varsities in the southern part of the state, the high-flying sophomores left the "southern folk" gaping at their basketball prowess, 70-47. Four players again scored over 10 to lead the attack.

Glenbard 48 — La Grange 43

Glenbard's powerful frosh-soph quintet took over undisputed first place in the conference as they outscored La Grange, 48-43. The Ponies rushed to a big early lead but La Grange came back to make the game a real thriller. Biederman scored 15 for the league leaders.

Glenbard 56 — Wheaton 35

Meeting a much-improved, but still outclassed, Tiger outfit, the Ponies moved to a rather easy victory. The frosh-soph Bards now have a four game winning streak over the underclass Tigers. Dave Obrecht, who scored 17, and Biederman, tallyer of 16, paced the scoring.

Glenbard 55 — York 21

York's schoolboy farmers were unable to give the Bards much of a game as they fell to defeat, 55-21. Glenbard led all the way and was never in trouble. Biederman led again with 19.

Glenbard 53 — Arlington Heights 42

Arlington Heights' impressive frosh-soph outfit, fresh from a ten point win over La Grange, gave the Ponies their toughest outing of the season in an all-out thriller at Glenbard. Needing a win to gain a title tie, the Cards led, 28-18, at half-time. The Bards came out after the intermission a different team, however, and proceeded to narrow the gap to 38-35 at the end of the third period. Arlington ran out of gas in the final period and was outscored, 18-4, to give the Ponies their most important win of the season. Biederman led the team with 21, but it was Tom Dodd's four straight baskets in the third period that ignited the team.

Glenbard 47 — Hinsdale 45

"Plumb tuckered out" from their titanic effort the night before, the Green and White almost fell to a mediocre Red Devil quintet. A fourth quarter rally, however, saved them from such a disgrace. Bill Biederman, Rich Edwards, and Dave Obrecht scored 22, 12, and 10 respectively to lead the underclassmen.

Glenbard 47 — Riverside-Brookfield 30

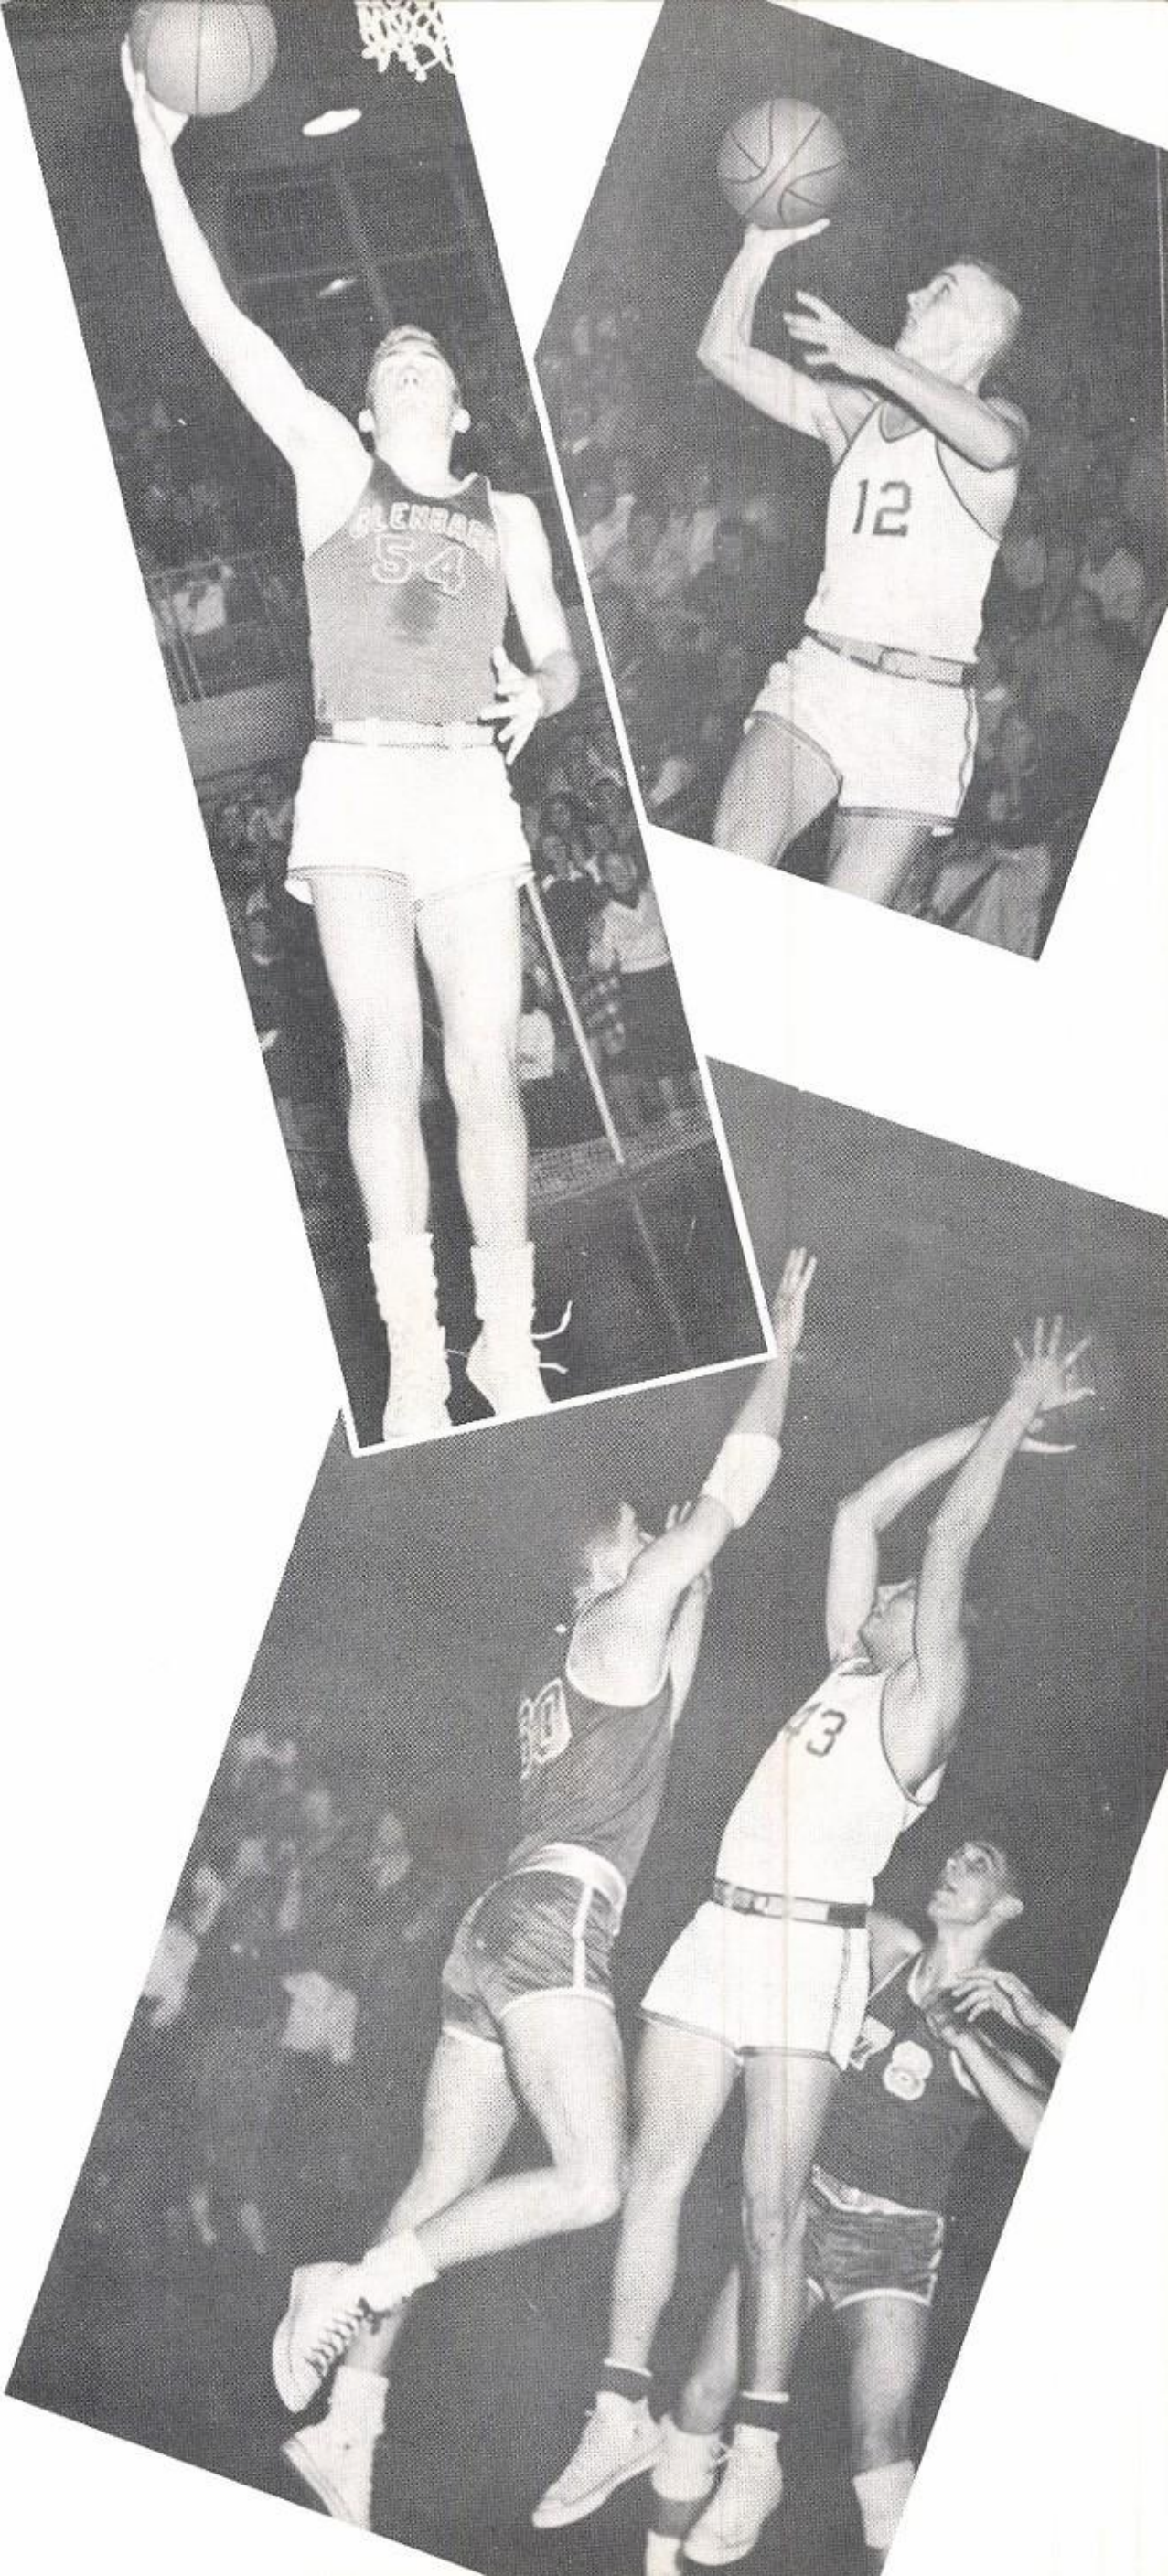

Although Riverside-Brookfield's stall gave Glenbard partisans some anxious moments, it was not enough to keep the always hard-driving Ponies from clinching their first West Suburban Conference title. Superior ball-handling enabled the Bards, who led only 27-22 at the end of three periods, to pull ahead in the last for a good win. Bill Biederman and Dick Temple paced the attack with 16 and 15 points respectively.

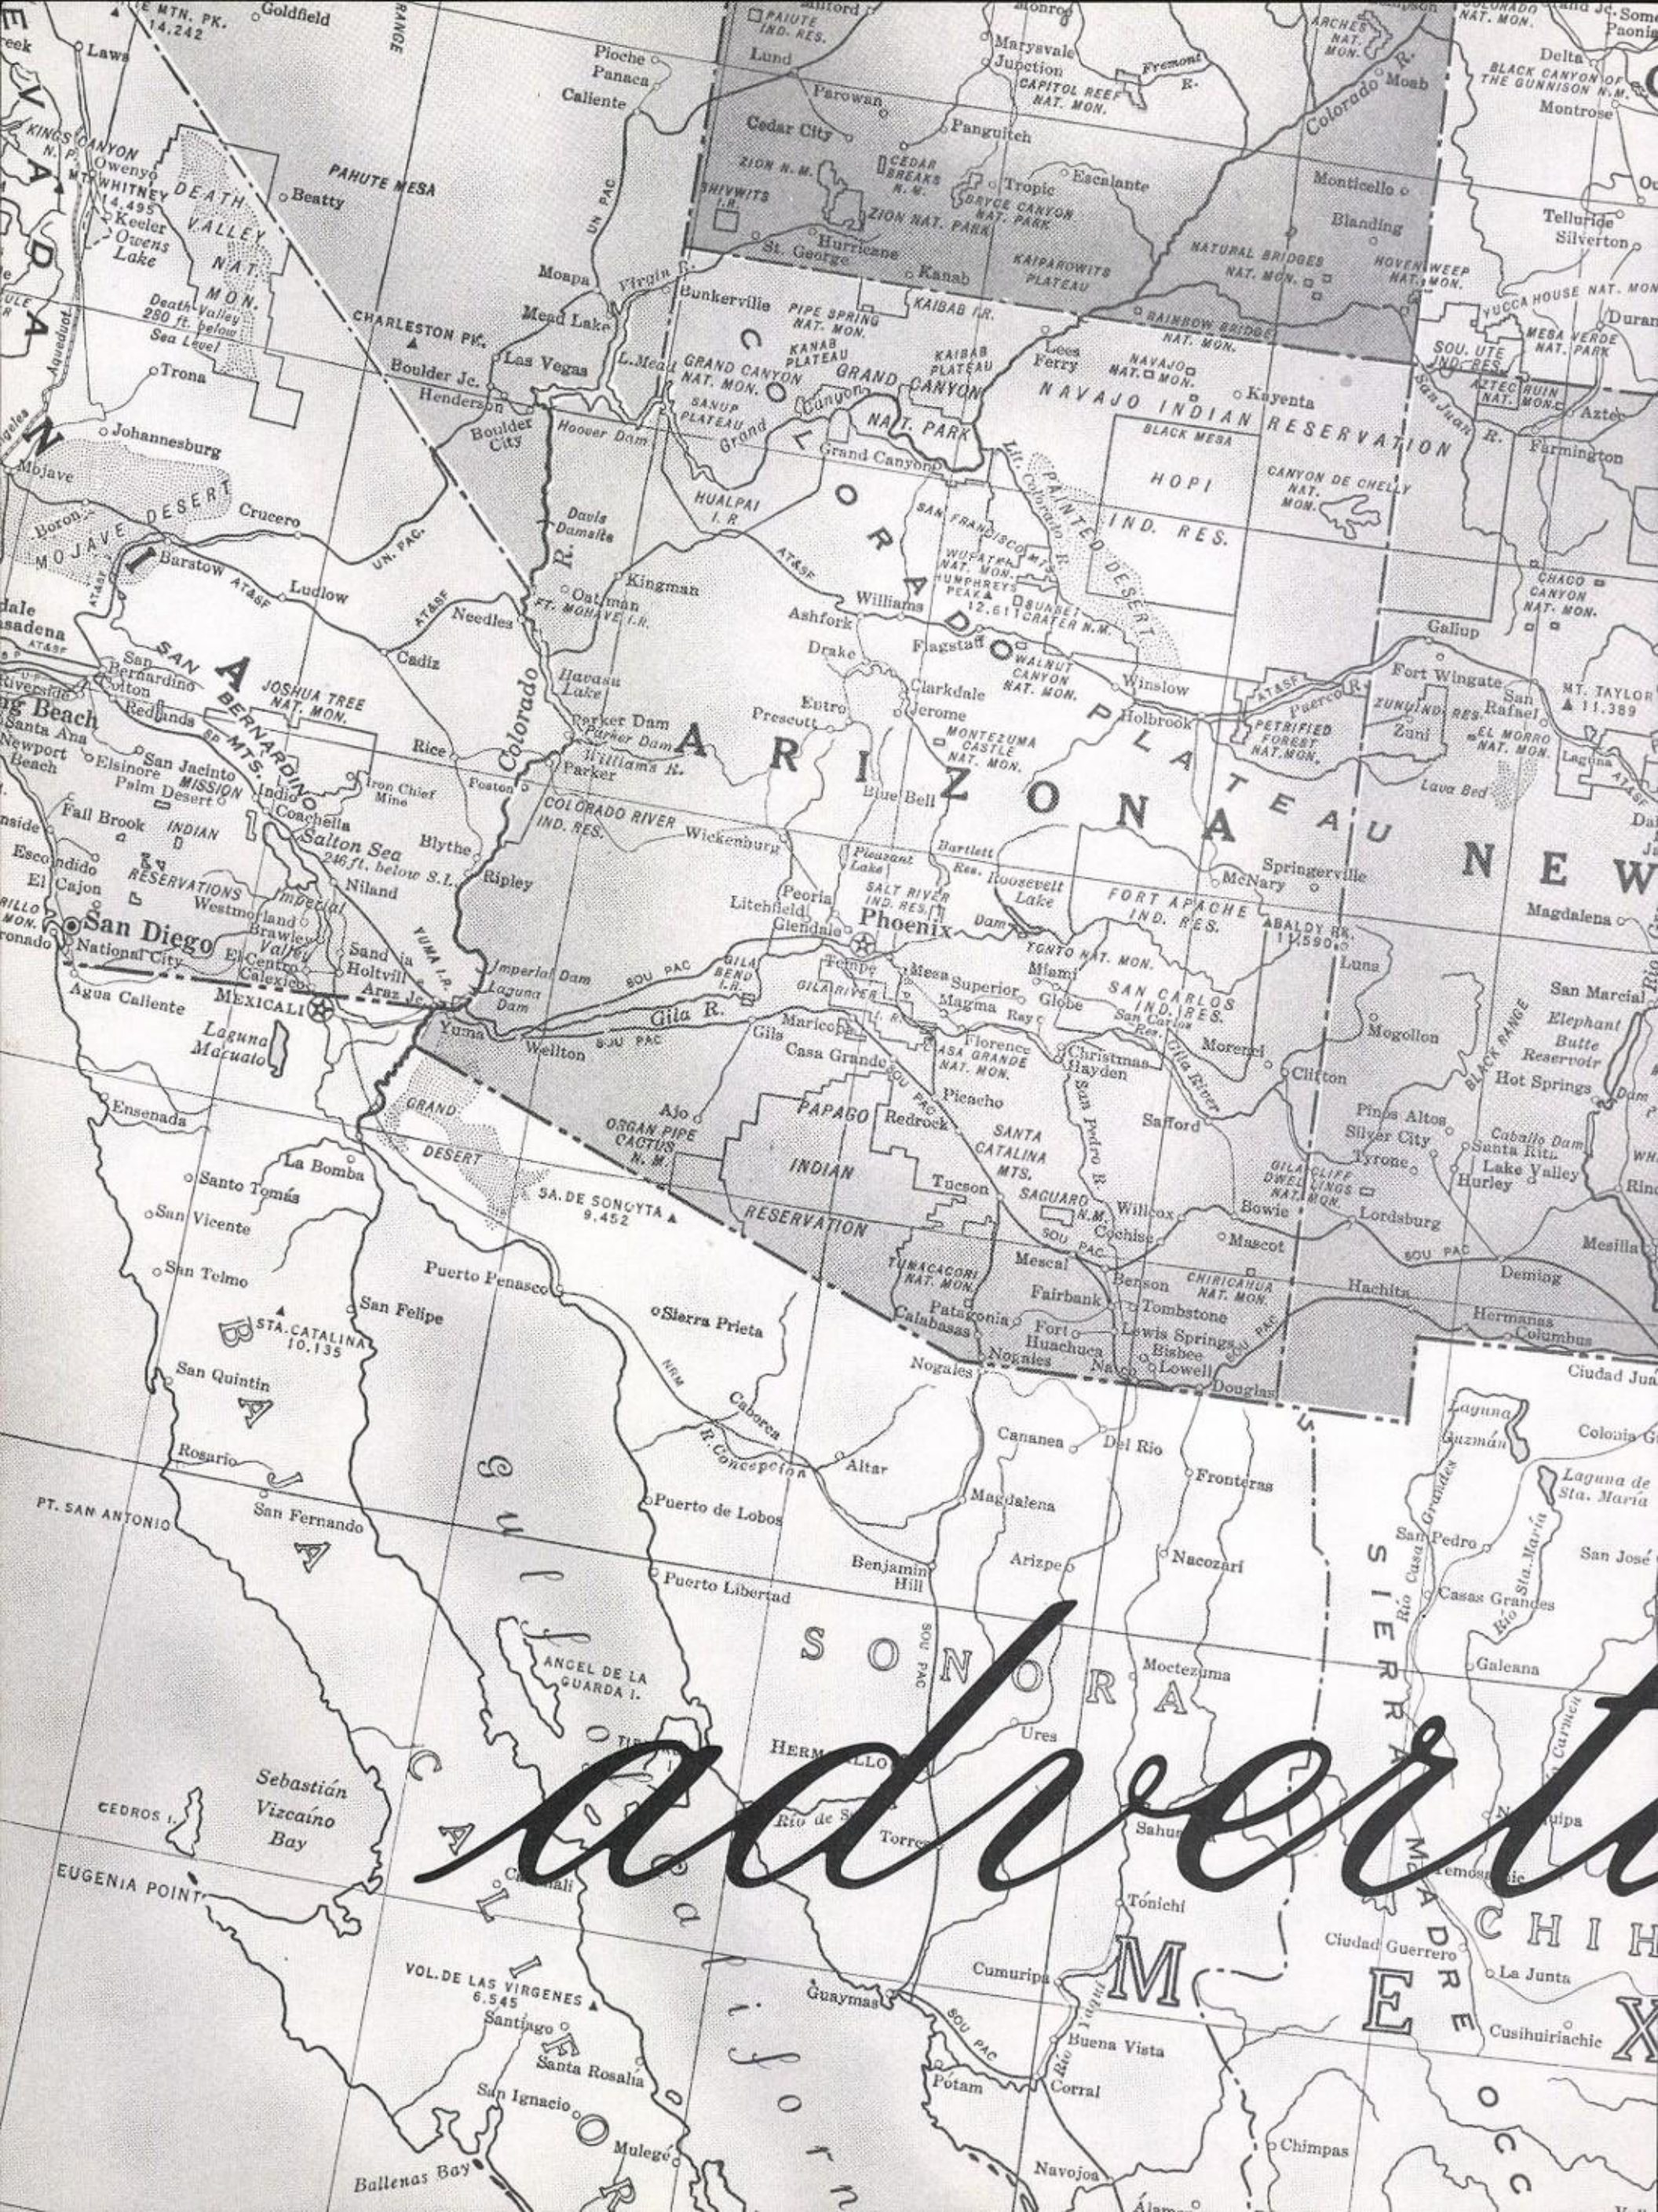

Glenbard 62 — Naperville 37

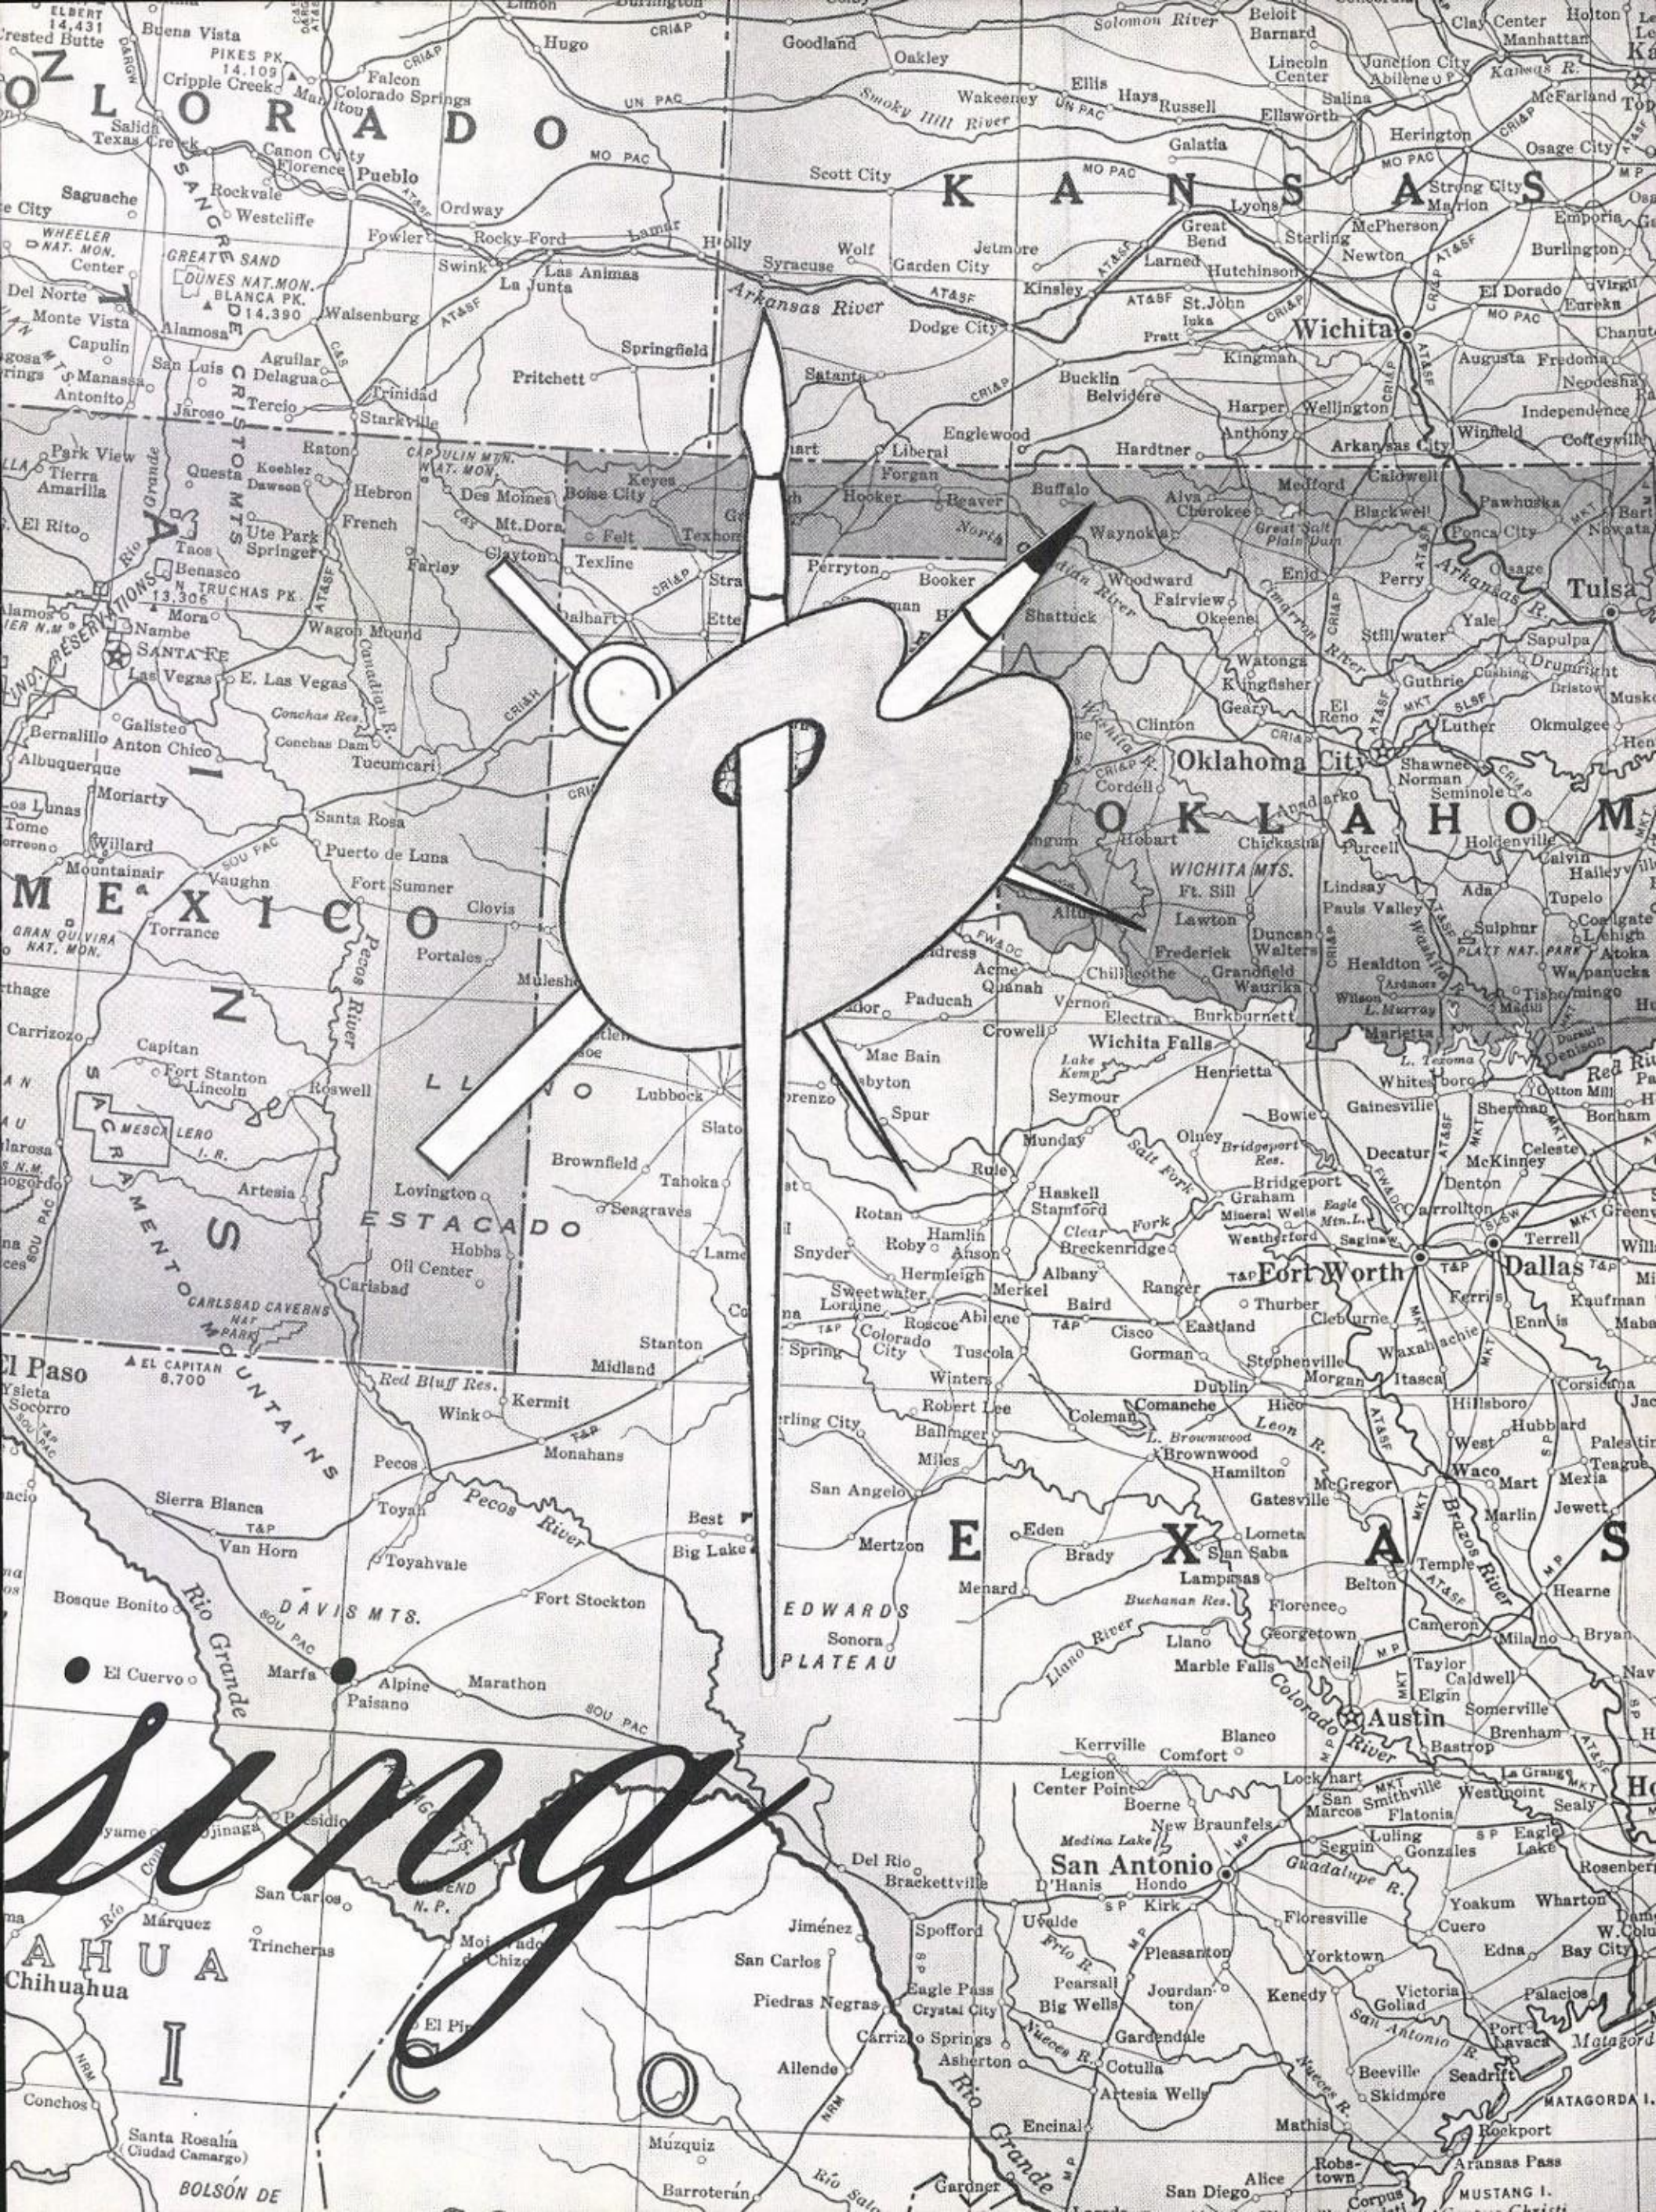

Showing little nervousness, even with their star, Biederman, promoted to the varsity, the frosh-soph easily disposed of Naperville, a non-conference foe. Rich Edwards and Burt Carle, two tricky little play-makers, paced the team with 17 and 9 points.

Glenbard 74 — Maine 56

The high-flying underclassmen completed their regular season with their sixteenth consecutive win, 74-56, over Maine. Although the contest was somewhat close for three quarters, Dick Temple's 28 points led the way to another easy win.

Dear Nancy,
We really suffered through English
with good old Grace, but it really was a lot of fun. Lots of luck and success
in your future years.
